

Revival Throngs See Young Woman Killed by Auto

Miss Jones Fatally Injured Returning Home From Services at Trinity Methodist Church.

DRIVER GIVES UP; BOND IS REFUSED

McClure Near Death Following Relapse From Injuries in Wreck—Police Launch Drive.

Atlanta police swung into a concerted drive on speeding and reckless driving Wednesday as the wave of automobile accidents took toll of a third life in as many days and brought another person near death.

The latest fatality reported occurred Wednesday night when Miss Nettie Jones, 22, of 73 East Merritts avenue, was struck down at the corner of Trinity avenue and Washington street in view of a throng of people just leaving revival services, as she was returning home from Trinity Methodist church, where she had attended that church's nightly activities in the citywide evangelical revival.

The car which struck Miss Jones was driven by J. E. Christian, of 315 Boulevard drive, East Lake, who surrendered at Fulton tower after he had given his name to relatives of the dying young woman at the scene of the accident. He was held without bond on charges of involuntary manslaughter.

Witnesses state that the car driven by Christian was not exceeding a speed of 15 miles per hour and that the car was brought to a standstill in less than 15 feet from where Miss Jones was struck.

It also developed Wednesday night that Steve R. McClure, whose automobile crashed into a telephone pole on Peachtree street in front of the Pallas apartment Monday night, killing Arthur P. Burke, Jr., high school student, and injuring P. E. Mahew, was in a critical condition at his home suffering from what physicians believed to be internal injuries and concussion of the brain.

Members of the family stated that nurses and physicians were in attendance at his bedside night and day, and that grave fears for his recovery were entertained.

Young McClure left the scene of the accident Monday night and was later located by police wandering near the corner of Marietta street and Ponders avenue, covered with blood and in a dazed condition. At first it was not believed that he had suffered more than superficial injuries, and he was held at police station for several hours until his father, C. W. McClure, prominent wholesale merchant, made $5,000 bond for him.

Upon his release young McClure suffered a relapse and has been in a critical condition ever since. Members of the family told The Constitution Wednesday night that McClure was unable to remember anything in connection with the accident, and that the presumption was that he received the injuries to his skull and body as the result of the crash.

En Route To Her Home.
Miss Nettie Jones, the latest victim of the wave of accidents, was fatally injured Wednesday night in company with her mother, Mrs. A. B. Jones, and her sister, Miss Leah Jones, as they were returning home after attending services at Trinity Methodist church. As they walked into the street for the purpose of boarding a street car, they were summoned by a friend passing who said that he would transport them home. Miss Jones, according to witnesses, attempted to cross the street and was struck down, both wheels of Christian's automobile passing over her body.

She died before she reached Grady hospital, where she was being taken to receive medical treatment. Physicians stated that death was caused by a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Funeral services will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon from Trinity Avenue Methodist church. Rev. Wallace Rogers, officiating. The body will be carried Friday morning to Butler, Ga., for interment.

Members of the Epworth league of the church of which she was a member, will act as pallbearers. They are: A. C. Tanner, Robert Holcomb, J. W.

UNLIMITED BOOZE GIVEN WITNESSES, WHEELER ASSERTS

Chicago, April 1.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, en route today to Montana to stand trial April 16, charged that during the grand jury inquiry which resulted in his indictment recently on charges of representing a client before a federal bureau, while holding his senatorial office, federal agents had given government witnesses unlimited liquor for three weeks to give them courage to carry out the designs of the persecutors.

THREE WITNESSES FURNISH CHAPMAN WITH FULL ALIBI

'Super-Bandit' Will Take Stand Today at Hartford in Attempt To Avoid Death by Noose.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Hartford, Conn., April 1.—Gerald Chapman, mail thief and jail breaker, claims to have been in Brooklyn, N. Y., within four hours of the time he is charged by the state of Connecticut with having shot to death Patrolman James Skelly in New Britain.

Three alibi witnesses, one of them a former "buddy" in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, swore today that they had seen him in Brooklyn at an hour when three other witnesses, testifying for the prosecution, placed Chapman in the Old Colony Inn at Meriden, Conn.

Lyle Chastane, confessed former convict and the man who nursed Chapman to health in the Atlanta prison hospital, swore that he had been with Chapman until after 2 o'clock the morning of Sunday, October 12, 1924. Skelly was shot down by one of two safe looters in the store of Davidson & Leventhal in New Britain some time around 7 o'clock that same morning.

Chastane, now the proprietor of a stationery store in Brooklyn, testified that Chapman visited him Saturday night, October 11. They went to a nearby "speakeasy" and Chapman did not leave him until after 2 o'clock the following morning, he testified.

Francis M. Brew, young bank clerk, and John A. Martin, both residents of the neighborhood of Chastane's store, testified that they had seen Chapman in Chastane's store that Saturday night. Martin, however, was not positive, declaring he was "almost sure" the prisoner was the man he had seen.

Brew Very Positive.
But Brew was very positive. Asked by Frederick J. Groehl, Chapman's chief counsel, to identify the prisoner a second time, he left the witness chair, walked up to within three feet of Chapman, peered intently at him and replied:

"I am positive this is the man I saw."

Before the alibi witnesses took the stand today, pistol experts for the prosecution positively identified the bullet which killed Skelly as having been fired from the weapon taken from Chapman when he was arrested in Muncie, Ind., last January.

103,000 VISITORS SEE MODEL HOMES

Thousands Daily Visit 'Homes Beautiful', Sponsored by Constitution and Merchants.

"Home Beautiful"

Wednesday's Attendance.
Avondale 5,000
Decatur Road 4,200
Morningside 4,000
Sylvan Hills 2,700

How to Reach Homes.
Avondale Estates (four houses)—Take Stone Mountain car.
46 Decatur road, Druid Hills—Take Inman Park-Emory university cars.
562 Morningside drive, North Highlands—Take Highland Avenue-Lanier Road cars.
Byron and Melrose drive, Sylvan Hills—Stewart Avenue car, Sylvan Hills bus line.

With the fourth day of Atlanta's gigantic "Home Beautiful" exhibit, conducted jointly by The Constitution and cooperating merchants, a thing of the past, the success of the movement from every angle is assured by the attendance of approximately 103,000 persons since the doors of the seven display homes opened at 1 o'clock Sunday.

The manner in which tens of thousands of beauty-lovers have been thronging to these model homes during the first four days of the display indicates, not only that Atlantans in general are lovers of beauty, but that the merit of the scheme is such that the interest of each daily throng is aroused to such an extent that they in turn recommend visitations to their friends.

Principals in Baffling North Georgia Tragedy

These are the principals in a tragedy that has stirred all Madison county. Reading from left to right is Mazelle Graham, 11. In center is Alvin Graham, and right is Elco Graham, 9, all three are confined in the county jail at Danielsville charged with the murder on March 16 of Guy Graham, 7, who was killed with a shotgun. Mazelle and Elco first said that a negro entered the home where they were playing and shot the boy, later they said a white man did it, then they said Alvin Graham, stepfather of Guy, killed him to get him out of the way. Later they said Guy was killed accidentally while they were playing. They were charged with the crime, and when they implicated Alvin, he, too, was arrested and lodged in jail.

BISHOP LAWRENCE TELLS WHY LODGE VOTED FOR BONUS

"A Promise Previously Made to a Great Constituency" Was Given by Senator as Reason.

Boston, April 1.—Explanation of the action of the late Henry Cabot Lodge in refusing to support the president's veto of the veterans' adjustment bill was made public today by Bishop William Lawrence, of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts, in delivering an address of eulogy at a joint session of the state senate and house of representatives, held in memory of the former senator from Massachusetts.

"A promise previously made to a great constituency" was assigned by Senator Lodge, the speaker said, as his reason for failing to support the president on that occasion.

Bishop Lawrence, a friend of Senator Lodge from boyhood, analyzed the character and career of the Massachusetts statesman. Regarding the attitude of Senator Lodge on the bonus, Bishop Lawrence said:

Cites Circumstances of Vote.

"The veterans' adjustment bill passed by congress was vetoed by the president, was passed over his head by the house, and coming before the senate, was bound to meet a very close vote. Senator Lodge had supported both bonus and adjustment bills from the start. Would he hold to his position? Thousands of telegrams poured in on him, urging him to stand by the president. I sent one. When, however, it came to the final vote, Senator Lodge answered to the call in favor of the bill, and overriding the president's veto; and only his vote was needed to reverse the decision.

"It was a critical moment in the life and long career of the senator, the leader of his president's party, and anathemas were hurled at him from over the country. He was accused of playing false to the president, a friend and former governor of his state.

Snubbed at Cleveland.
When the national convention met in Cleveland, he who had been permanent chairman there, who had been chairman of the committee on resolutions and who for 40 years had been a man to be considered at every step, found himself without office and often scoffed, though courteously treated. Delegates sought his room for advice, and he had a quiet, but important part in making up the platform. He simply said: 'My party has given me high honor in the past and if I have done what is not now approved by many, why should I not take my place in the ranks?'

Agents Raid 'Gerry' Farrar Private Coach

Some 40 Bottles of Champagne, Whisky and Beer Found and Confiscated.

Rutland, Vt., April 1.—Two dozen bottles of assorted liquors and a dozen bottles, alleged to contain beer, were seized when customs officials at Rouses Point, N. Y., searched the private car of Geraldine Farrar, they said late today.

The singer and her party were permitted to proceed to Rutland, where she was to fill a concert engagement tonight. No steps toward prosecution have been started as far as could be learned.

The officers say they found about 40 bottles of choice champagne, whisky and beer concealed in the car, some in the lower part of the piano board of the footboard, more in the maid's room and still more tucked behind the ventilators.

Miss Farrar lay abed in her state room and was not disturbed. She did not appear during the search, which took over half an hour, a Rutland railroad train being detained 36 minutes.

The seizure was reported to Collector Tulloch, of the port of Ogdensburg, in whose hands possible prosecution rests.

ART EXHIBITION 'WILL OPEN TODAY

Fifth Annual Exhibition Opens in Conjunction With Opening of Convention of Art League.

The fifth annual convention of the Southern States Art league will open at the Biltmore hotel this morning at 10 o'clock. Simultaneously, the fifth annual exhibition of paintings by southern artists will be thrown open to the public on the mezzanine floor of the Biltmore.

Two conventions will continue for the remaining three days of the week, while the exhibition will be open for the entire month of April, closing at April 30.

Over 250 paintings, reflecting not only the artistic beauty spots of the south, but the beauties of the world as seen in all sections of the globe through the eyes of southern artists, are included in the exhibition, which is considered one of the most perfect collections of modern art ever gathered together. The only condition, aside from excellence of work, attached to exhibits in this showing is that they must be the original work, either of southern-born artists or of artists who have been bona fide residents of the south for two years or longer.

FIRE CHIEF SHORN OF MUCH POWER IN NEWEST RULES

Renewal of Fight Between Chief Cody and Alderman Armistead Seen in Action.

The latest outbreak in the long-standing differences between Chief W. B. Cody, head of Atlanta's fire department for more than 10 years, and Alderman Jesse W. Armistead, chairman of the fire committee of city council, occurred Wednesday when a new set of rules for the fire department, proposed by Armistead, was adopted by the council.

Powers of Chief Cody are curtailed in many respects by the new regulations and much of the authority granted him under the former rules is revoked under new regulations.

While committee members take the view that the new rules will have little effect on his authority Chief Cody sees the matter in an altogether different light.

"The new rules practically make the first chief a figurehead," he stated Wednesday night. "The committee evidently wants to make me responsible for the lives and property of Atlanta's citizens and for the welfare of my men, but still they take away from me the authority which I need to do those very things.

Politics Blamed.
"The movement today simply was a political maneuver. The new rules never were shown to me, and I was not consulted and my advice was not asked in drafting them. I was not even present when the committee passed them, and was not notified that any new rules were under consideration until I was handed a copy of the rules and told that they were to be effective immediately.

"Under the new rules I am forced to attend to much routine work which is practically impossible for the reason that I will not have time as I am required to attend all fires in the business district. However, if I do not comply with all the impossible rules, I may be deemed guilty of dereliction.

"While I am required to attend all fires in the business district, the new rules are twisted about in such a way that I cannot take charge of a fire unless I am at the station when it breaks out. If I am absent from the station for any purpose other than attending fires I must return to the station before I can resume charge of the department.

Destroys Efficiency.
"The newest rules practically wreck the two-plant system, which has proven so efficient here since its inauguration in 1919. Under the old rules men were required to report in uniform and to answer roll calls both when coming on and going off duty. Now a man may leave at any time his relief arrives.

"That all means that I am unable to tell who is on duty at any time and the new rules do not even require that contains report to me before going off duty.

PRICE PAID FOR DODGE AUTOMOBILE CONCERN IS NEARLY $175,000,000

Lillian Gish's Suitor-Lawyer Accused of Jekyll-Hyde Role

BY ROBERT D. LUSK.

New York, April 1.—The traditional Griffithesque horsemen, are riding hard, and if everything continues as hopefully, as it did in Wednesday's reel, they will arrive just in time to snatch the dainty Lillian Gish out of the clutches of the "villainous" Charles H. Duell.

It was a bad day for Duell, who is trying to hold the winsome Lillian to a moving picture contract she made with him. The producer was forced to modify previous statements in nearly every point of his case—his alleged engagement to Miss Gish, his business relations with her, her earnings and other matters.

After a day of constant hammering by Max Steuer, Lillian's attorney, Duell faltered so badly that Judge Mack said he didn't see "how a sane human being of your age" could forget to such an extent.

Again bringing up the matter of the alleged Gish-Duell engagement, Steuer forced Duell to admit that at the time he testified he was engaged to Miss Gish he started to sue a New York newspaper for carrying a story to the effect the two were engaged. He also admitted that at the same time Lillian caused the paper to print a retraction. And then the relentless Steuer switched to business. He forced Duell to admit that he had deliberately misrepresented facts to her present counsel, that he had said one thing in a telegram when he meant another, and that she had signed a receipt for three weeks' salary she never received, because Duell and Smith charged her $6,000 for "legal services."

It was this strange role of both lawyer and employer that interested Steuer most.

"At what second was she to guess that she was talking to you as her lawyer, and at what second as the president of Inspiration Pictures?" Steuer shouted at Duell.

"Was she to trust you at 10 minutes past 4 as her attorney, and be on her guard against you at 15 after 4 because you were drawing up some paper to her detriment? Wasn't it the same Charles H. Duell? What sort of Jekyll-Hyde game were you playing?"

POWER OFFICIALS READY TO HELP VIADUCT PROJECT

Remarks Regarding Improvements Misinterpreted, Atkinson Says; Mayor Sims Pleased.

H. M. Atkinson, chairman of the board of the Georgia Railway & Power Co., in a statement Wednesday night declared his remarks before members of the traction committee of council, appearing in an afternoon paper, apparently had been misinterpreted and had given the impression that the company was threatening not to cooperate with the city in building the proposed viaducts. Mr. Atkinson declared that such an impression was wholly erroneous.

When told of Mr. Atkinson's attitude Mayor Walter A. Sims issued a statement stressing the importance of the viaducts and declaring that they must be provided for as the first step in city expansion.

"I am gratified," Mayor Sims said, "to know that Colonel H. M. Atkinson has repudiated the statement attributed to him in the afternoon papers of yesterday. The city government is handling the Beeler report as speedily as the best interest of the city will permit."

"I don't see that anything further can, at this time, be done and until the state grants permission to build the viaducts at Pryor street and Central avenue we will have to simply mark time. I shall not approve any contract or grant further concessions until the city obtains the right to construct the viaducts."

"Mr. Beeler has stated that the construction of these viaducts are the basis of his plan and the base should be inaugurated before anything further is done.

Appreciates Cooperation.
"I am glad to know that Colonel Atkinson and the power company are ready and willing to continue to cooperate with the city in an effort to obtain the necessary permission and to actually help in building these viaducts."

MACON WOMAN SHOOT HUSBAND

Wife Walks Into Drug Store and Fires at Husband Twice, Probably Fatally Wounding Him.

Macon, Ga., April 1.—Following the probable fatal shooting of Henry W. Wood, druggist, here tonight, for which his wife, Mrs. Ethel Wood, is under arrest, police claim to have uncovered a chain of domestic tragedies that have been continuing for more than a year in the Wood home.

Events in connection with the loss of their infant child a year ago led to the tragedy of tonight, police say. Mrs. Wood took the little one's wearing apparel and deposited it in a cedar chest at the Wood home in the Crumpton Park section of Macon.

ENGLAND SETS OUT TO CATCH FRANCE IN AIRPLANE RACE

Contracts Let for 10 Hangars, First Units of System of Defensive Air Centers About London.

BY CHARLES M. MCANN.

London, April 1.—Great Britain and France are off on a race for supremacy of the air.

France is far in the lead, but contracts have just been let by the British war ministry for ten airplane hangars, the first units of a system of defensive centers which eventually will inclose thirty stations.

Fifty-two air squadrons ultimately will be housed in the chain of hangars, and twenty-six of them will have been raised to full strength by April, 1926.

British Busy On Improvements.

Conscious of the French air superiority, Britain is busy with research to develop faster, bullet-proof, fire-proof airplanes.

Rumors are constantly heard that the government has developed a helicopter to the verge of successful operation. While engineers experiment with designs and motors, the ground defense corps is engaged every day in revising means to protect the great centers of population from air attack. At night, searchlights play incessantly above the unsuspecting theater crowds, while in the summer time there are frequent concentrations in various parts of London of anti-aircraft guns mounted on trucks.

London, where the wealth and government of Great Britain is concentrated, is the pivot of the air-defense scheme now being realized. A protecting ring of aerodromes will surround the capital.

All this is significant when studied in connection with the gas research in progress on Salisbury plain, and with the statement in the house of commons Wednesday that Great Britain is spending 7 per cent of her national income on the navy.

France leaped ahead in the air after World War.

MISSISSIPPI VOTES DOWN UNIFICATION

Returns Indicate Fewer Than 12 Churches Favor Plan—16,000 Votes Against to 176 for It.

Macon, Ga., April 1.—Incomplete returns from the Mississippi conferences indicate that less than 12 churches in that state have voted in favor of the proposed plan for unification of the north and south branches of the Methodist Episcopal church. It was announced here today by Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of the eighth Episcopal district, embracing conferences in Georgia, Florida and Mississippi.

HOUSE OF MORGAN OUTBID FOR PLANT IN GIGANTIC BATTLE

Dillon, Read & Co., of New York, New Owners of Company of Famous Detroit Brothers.

SPIRITED STRUGGLE WAGED BY BANKERS

Consolidation of Plant With Any Other Companies Not Contemplated, Official Says.

EARNINGS OF DODGE AROUND $20,000,000

New York, April 1.—An important factor which entered into the heavy bidding for the Dodge Brothers Motor company was the concern's earnings, according to a copyrighted article which will appear Thursday in the Wall Street Journal.

These are said to have exceeded $17,500,000 on a gross business of $191,000,000 last year, showing a gain where most motor companies lost. This year's earnings are at a $20,000,000 rate, the article declares.

The Dillon-Read bid, the article asserts, indicates the liberal appraisal on the company's good will of $50,000,000, while the bid of the General Motors company is judged to have estimated the value of the Dodge good will in excess of $34,000,000.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, April 1.—After a spirited struggle between powerful financial interests, ownership of Dodge Brothers, Inc., one of the country's largest automobile companies, today passed to Dillon, Read & Co., New York bankers, in a cash transaction involving slightly less than $175,000,000.

The exact purchase price was not revealed by the bankers, but it was learned authoritatively that it exceeded net sales of the Dodge company of more than $150,000,000, submitted by the General Motors company through J. P. Morgan & Co.

The transaction represents the largest single transfer of an industrial corporation for cash in the history of American finance.

Within a short time the huge motor business, founded by John and Horace Dodge a little more than ten years ago, will be transformed from a closed family corporation to one of the largest publicly-owned automobile companies in the United States. Reorganization of the company's capital structure is planned by the new banker-owners, who will subsequently make a public offering of securities, probably exceeding $100,000,000.

Net sales of the Dodge company totaled $191,652,446 last year, when 223,236 cars were sold. In line

E. G. Wilmer, head of the Good Year Tire and Rubber company, who was associated with Dillon, Read & Co. representatives in negotiations for the Dodge properties, is expected to become chairman of the new company.

Members of the banking firm, as well as other interests identified with the tire company, also will be represented on the board of directors. Present executives of Dodge Brothers, however, will continue in direct charge of its manufacturing operations.

Detroit April 1.—An agreement has been reached for the sale of Dodge Brothers, Inc., to Dillon, Read & Company, of New York City, it was officially announced early tonight by A. C. Schwartz, local representative of the New York banking firm.

No purchase price was announced. Following an all day conference which did not break up until nearly 8 o'clock tonight, Mr. Schwartz issued the following statement:

Test of Statement.

"An agreement has been reached for the sale of Dodge Brothers, Inc., to Dillon, Read & Company and contracts of purchase now are being drawn.

"Consolidation of Dodge with any other company or companies is not in contemplation by the purchaser, and current rumors of consolidation are entirely without foundation.

"It is the intention that Dodge Brothers, Inc., shall continue to be conducted as an independent concern, without change in policy or personnel of management."

Refuse to Make Comment.

The terse statement was all that was made public, and Mr. Schwartz as well as other representatives of Dillon, Read & Co., refused to make any verbal additions to its text.

Although the Dillon, Read & Company representative refused to say who attended today's conference, which was in continuous session from 10 o'clock this morning until tonight, it was learned that Wesson Seymour, attorney representing the Dodge interests, was present, in addition to E. G. Wilmer and S. W. Howland, both of New York and both representatives of Dillon, Read & Co.

The secrecy which has shrouded the negotiations, and which has given rise to a flood of rumors involving General Motors corporation, the Packard Motor Car company, and the Briggs Body corporation, was maintained in the brief interview granted newspapermen. There was no mention of the fact that further details would be made public "from time to time, as developments warrant."

No Third Party Involved.

It was made clear, however, that the purchase was made entirely by Dillon, Read & Company, and that it was not acting for any third party. There was nothing to indicate what disposition the New York bankers planned to make of the plant other than the explanation contained in their formal statement that Dodge Brothers, Inc., "shall continue to be conducted as an independent concern."

Even the formal statement failed definitely to declare that the sale had been completed, indicating that final details still await consummation. Throughout the afternoon, the conference was attended solely by Dillon, Read & Company representatives and it was only at the last minute that Mr. Seymour, the Dodge representative, entered it.

No Dodge Officers Present.

None of the trustees, in whose charge is administration of the Dodge Motor Car plants, nor any officers of the Dodge company, attended today's conference, so far as could be learned. The discussions appear to have been confined to Dillon, Read & Company men, but none of them would indicate what line their conversation followed.

No one in a position to speak with authority would give newspapermen an inkling tonight of the amount involved, the manner of financing or any details of the transaction, said to have been one of the largest deals in the history of the automobile industry. Rumors ranged the price at from $105,000,000 to $150,000,000.

John Ballantyne, treasurer of Dodge Brothers, refused to make any comment tonight, other than to say that the statement made public by Mr. Schwartz was correct.

Members of Stock Exchange.

Dillon, Read & Co. is a member of the New York Stock exchange, and has figured in many large financial transactions. E. G. Wilmer, who sat throughout today's conference, is chairman of the board of directors of the Good Year Tire and Rubber company, control of which is said to rest with Dillon, Read & Co.

Sale of the Dodge company marks the only transfer ever made of stock from the Dodge Brothers or their estate. The company was the outgrowth of a lifelong partnership on the part of John F. and Horace E. Dodge. When it was incorporated the stock was allotted so that each brother had 50 per cent. Upon the death of the brothers in 1920, control of the corporation went into the hands of trustees acting for their heirs, the widows of the two men and their children. It is said that Mrs. John F. and Mrs. Horace E. Dodge have been desirous for some time of withdrawing from the company which is theirs, but over which they have exercised little control.

103,000 VISITORS SEE MODEL HOME

In the furnishings of the completely equipped houses.

Unstinted praise of the efforts of The Constitution and assisting merchants of the city, is heard on every hand as unprecedented throngs flock to the beauty spots.

Prominent real estate men of Atlanta were registering enthusiasm in connection with the Home Beautiful plan Wednesday after they were given an opportunity to visit several of the model places Tuesday as guests of G. F. Willis owner of Avondale Estates, who gave the realtors a barbecue at Avondale Tuesday. From these men, who are in a position to know what a really harmoniously furnished home is, came only approbation of the movement and compliments for the efforts of The Constitution and merchants who made this great scheme possible.

The splendid cooperation of Atlanta merchants has contributed greatly to the success of the show. The actual investment in furniture, fixtures and other accoutrements loaned by merchants is astounding in its immensity. An outstanding example of this is the placement of Oldsmobile automobiles at every home by the Oldsmobile company. The value of Oldsmobile cars in the exhibit is in excess of $10,000. This is only one example of the cooperation received by The Constitution from merchants.

LEGION TO OBSERVE 8TH WAR ANNIVERSARY

Indianapolis April 1.—American Legion departments and posts throughout the United States were called upon today by James A. Drain, national commander, to observe with "fitting ceremonies" the eighth anniversary of America's entry into the world war April 6.

SHEPHERD COUNSEL RENEW BAIL FIGHT

Chicago, April 1.—William D. Shepherd's fight for bail on the charge of murdering his ward, William Nelson McClintock, will be resumed Thursday, on the strength of six affidavits—all attacking witnesses who have testified against him.

The documents were filed in the criminal court Wednesday by William Scott Stewart, Shepherd's attorney, in accordance with the instructions made by Judge Jacob Hopkins Tuesday, simultaneously with his ruling that no oral testimony would be permitted in the petition to reopen the bail hearing.

Source of Affidavits.

One of the affidavits was made by Dr. Herman Bundesen, health commissioner, who was not allowed to take the stand Tuesday. His affidavit declares that no typhoid germs could have been obtained from his office by "Dr." C. C. Faiman, the principal witness against Shepherd. Two of Dr. Bundesen's assistants made similar affidavits.

Faiman, who is head of the National Institute of Sciences, confessed that he supplied Shepherd with typhoid germs that were used to kill young McClintock. These germs originally came from the office of the health commissioner, according to the confession.

Attorney Stewart will attempt to show that Faiman's story is part of a "gigantic blackmail plot" to rob Shepherd of his rights under the McClintock will.

Reveals Faiman's Record.

Faiman is also attacked by Oscar McDanns, of St. Louis, Mo. In his affidavit McDanns charges that Faiman once served a jail sentence in St. Paul, Minn., for an illegal operation. He further declares that Faiman once conducted a disorderly house in Detroit.

Mrs. Annie Koch, the mother of Earl Clark, a witness for the state, swears that her son once told her that Shepherd was innocent, that blackmail was behind the entire charges against him and that her son has "no will power to tell the truth."

Clark, formerly a salesman for the Faiman school, is held in technical custody by the state. Stewart has threatened to institute habeas corpus proceedings unless he is released.

The character of Dr. George Foberg, who testified at the inquest in the McClintock death several months ago that Shepherd had come to him for information about germs, was attacked in an affidavit by Charles W. Hall, of Chicago. "The man is not to be believed under oath," Hall declares.

The Briton Thought Us Queer Investors

A distinguished English financier, visiting this country some years ago, was surprised at the investment habits of Americans.

"Why," he exclaimed, "even your rich men seem to keep so many of their securities pledged for loans at the bank! They own comparatively little outright and are always talking about selling at a profit."

But, the habit of outright investing has grown since the Englishman was here. People are buying first mortgage real estate bonds and putting them away in surprising amounts. You can get up to 7%, 4% Federal Income Tax refunded, on these bonds. The Four Distinguishing Marks of Miller Bonds furnish a quick, easy method of checking up the essential points. The Beeler Plan

Well, folks, I see by the papers that most of the big guys says as how they think our town ought to have the Beeler plan—'course don't everybody know what the Beeler plan is—including the writer.

But just from what I can gather by what's being said at these big get-together dinners what's being at our leading hotels, I would judge that our fair city is in for having her facial expression changed.

Also it is roomed around town that if we have the Beeler plan we will have so much room to walk and drive our cars (when we get one) that it won't never be necessary for no policeman to snap his fingers in our faces just because the one what stays up in the crow's nest swaps lights on us in the middle of the street.

Well, if half what we hear about Mr. Beeler's plan is true, it must be a pretty good stunt at that—and, as a mere taxpayer, I say: "Let's try it once!"

Yours for a bigger, better and safer-to-get-about-in city, in which is located, at 172-174 Whitehall street (the city's main street), the Home Art Supply Company, the South's greatest best of these exhibits. Prize winners will be announced at a luncheon to be given today in the grill room of the Biltmore by the Atlanta Art association to visiting artists and delegates to the convention. Four prizes are to be given, two of $100 each and two of $25 each. The names of successful exhibitors will be announced by Frank Lowenstein, chairman of the committee on prizes.

Featuring the opening session of the convention this morning will be the speech of J. Carroll Payne, of Atlanta, president of the Southern States Art league and of the Atlanta Art association. Mr. Payne, in his speech will touch on a number of the more important developments in art in the south during the past year, including the great exhibition by the Grand Central Art galleries of New York, shown at the Biltmore for two weeks in May, 1924, and which is to be repeated this year during the first two weeks of May. He will touch upon the advance in artistic education and appreciation in the south and for a wider understanding of the beautiful as the most effective road to content and success for all people.

Business Session Today.

Reports of other officers will also be made at this morning's session after which the delegates and guests will attend the luncheon given in their honor by the local art association. Robert Parker, vice president of the Atlanta Art association, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon.

In the afternoon the delegates will inspect the exhibition of southern paintings, and, from 6 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne, 1146 Peachtree street.

Business sessions will be held on Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, delegates and visitors will be taken by automobile to Stone mountain.

On Friday night, at 8 o'clock, there will be a reception at the home of J. J. Haverty, 1740 Peachtree road, and on Saturday, from 4 to 6 p. m., another reception will be given by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant at their home on Paces Ferry road.

Approximately 200 delegates are expected to attend the convention, numbering among them the leaders of artistic and social life in the various cities of the south. Representatives of the different local art associations from practically all southern cities will be here and many artists of note who count the south their home or birthplace have signified their intention of attending.

The coming of this convention and exhibition is one of the most important events from a cultural standpoint ever to occur in Atlanta and, together with the forthcoming exhibit by the Grand Central galleries, stands second only to grand opera in its artistic import to the city and the south, leaders point out.

Mr. Payne will urge today that plans be made for a circuit of southern cities at which exhibitions of the Grand Central galleries can be shown each year. He will also urge a greater familiarity with the music in art to the end that false modesty in respect to the human body may be replaced by a greater respect and appreciation of the beauty inherent in the human form.

The following have been appointed to act as hostesses for visitors to the convention on Friday and Saturday: Friday morning, Mrs. Alfred Barill, Mrs. Arthur Chase and Mrs. J. R. Little; Friday afternoon, Mrs. V. Q. Foote, Mrs. W. F. Dunbar, Mrs. Thomas Northington, Mrs. Gilbert Fraser; Saturday morning, Mrs. Don Pardee, Mrs. Linton Hopkins, Mrs. R. R. Crew, Mrs. T. R. Hammond and Mrs. M. J. McNamee; Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Victor Smith, Mrs. J. K. Orr, and Mrs. R. G. McAlley.

FRACTURES SKULL IN JUMPING FROM CAR TO PAVEMENT

C. J. Reeves, about 50, of 1740 Peachtree road, is believed by Grady hospital doctors to have received a fractured skull in a jump late Wednesday from a blazing automobile. Reeves was riding in a car with H. Q. Terrell, of East Point, and when Terrell, in the car, caused a blaze, he jumped to the pavement on Peachtree road, near his home, and fell heavily.

the war. There are more French fighting planes than any three other countries can put into the air. An officer of the air ministry, Mr. Alfred Somers, said today that "France could turn the Mediterranean sea into a French lake within 24 hours." He meant that French air power gave France complete control of Europe, although there is some question as to whether airplanes could maintain their position on a position after it had been seized.

Despite large naval expenditures, Britain lags behind Japan in new ships. William C. Bridgman, first lord of the admiralty, told the house Wednesday that Britain had laid down 5 post-war cruisers; Japan, 19; France, 5; Italy, 2; and the United States, 10. Britain has built or is building 4 destroyers; Japan, 54; France, 24; Italy, 21; and the United States, 94. Japan is far ahead with 45 post-war submarines; United States, 33; and Britain, 2. No figures for Italy or France were available.

Lookout Mountain

ALTITUDE 2,126 FEET

Far above picturesque, ridge-flanked valleys and overshadowing the mighty Tennessee River as it turns and twists around Chattanooga to form Moccasin Bend at the mountain's base, stands proud Lookout Mountain with towering summit almost lost in clouds and sky.

Lookout Mountain, in Walker County of North Georgia, the famous peak in the southern states—once the happy hunting grounds of the Cherokees; later the scene of the "Battle Above the Clouds" and, for over a half century, the mecca of countless tourists seeking to enjoy scenic, historic and climatic splendors unequalled in this country or abroad.

On the high summit of this majestic rise, 2,126 feet above sea level, lies Fairyland—the Southland's Most Magnificent Resort and Residential Estate.

Nestled in the midst of old Lookout's cliff-bordered, breeze-swept plateau, an exquisite garden spot, marvelously endowed with superb scenery and amazing natural wonders, has been splendidly converted into America's most unique and beautiful estate.

Today, that which was once a great virgin wilderness of towering pines and hardwoods, carved boulders, canyons, gorges and ravines, has become, without sacrifice of natural beauty, a magnificent domain with roadways, bridle paths, parks, playgrounds, natural gardens, a commodious hotel, recreation grounds and improvements of every kind.

To those of Atlanta, and elsewhere, who seek an ideal place for happy rest and recreation, Fairyland offers all that could be desired—either for a few days or weeks' visit or as the site of a summer or permanent home.

Mrs. Willebrandt Outlines Suggestions for Improvement On Prohibition Enforcement

Predicts Subject Will Agitate Country for Next Few Months and Then Cause Congress To Act.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, April 1.—Prohibition enforcement will agitate the United States during the next few months and then settle around the neck of the new congress. The vigorous interest in this subject is the result of the information being given the Couzens committee at the capitol, and much of it is coming from the lips of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, the energetic director of prohibition prosecutions for the department of justice.

Disclosing the difference of views which exists between the department of justice and the prohibition unit of the treasury over procedure in certain cases, Mrs. Willebrandt also has taken issue, by inference, with members of congress regarding legislation which the administration fostered and which failed in the last session.

Outlines Plans.
Mrs. Willebrandt will appear before the Couzens committee investigating the internal revenue bureau again Thursday, to develop further her suggestions about improvement in enforcement, which she has thus outlined:

1. Civil service for prohibition agents.
2. Better pay for agents, in order to get more competent men and men less susceptible to influence.
3. Use of the injunction for stopping brewers operating illegally, instead of seizure.
4. More attention to big cases.
5. The Crampin bill placing dry agents under civil service and making other administrative changes was lost by a filibuster in the last session, after the house had passed it. The strong position taken by Mrs. Willebrandt in favor of having agents under civil service probably will revive it during the next session. The same fight which was made by senate "trusts" led by Senators Reed of Missouri, and Edge of New Jersey, probably will be repeated.

Blames Dry Agents.
Mrs. Willebrandt has found that many cases are lost in court because of the failure of agents to get proper evidence and in some cases, failure of district attorneys to present them properly.

That the failure to enforce the law and obtain convictions is widespread is indicated by her statement that directors in New England, New York, practically all of the Atlantic seaboard districts, two of the Pacific coast districts, the inland states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska and Montana "have expressed dissatisfaction with the fact that the type of case was too small in proportion to the volume of violations and that the prosecuting officer regretted that he could not get the evidence of larger types of violation."

Favors Injunctions.
Mrs. Willebrandt is in favor of use of the injunction in brewery cases, instead of seizure, as favored in most cases by the prohibition unit. An injunction, she holds, stops the business and is recognized in courts of law generally; does not require a jury; and prevents destruction of property. Authority for seizure on the other hand is not definitely fixed and is sometimes hard to obtain. Further, it is necessary to establish grounds to watch the seized property, requiring additional expense, and in many cases such grounds have been bribed and the brewery allowed to "bootleg."

With Mrs. Willebrandt's appearance Thursday, the long extended investigation of the committee into prohibition will come to a close. No more hearings will be held until May 7, when tax cases will be taken up again, until June, when the investigation of the committee will gather further evidence for the final session on tax matters.

Feels Health Return.
"Finally we began feeling so much about Karmak, that about two weeks ago my husband brought me a bottle, and just to please him I began taking it. I hadn't the slightest idea it would help me, or that anything would. But you can just imagine how beside myself with joy I was when after taking a few doses, I began to feel better. Why, I actually ate a real meal, for the first time in five years, and it didn't hurt me a bit."

"I just kept getting better and better until now, after taking two bottles, I feel entirely well. I feel just like I've got a new lease on life. I can almost anything I want, my appetite is fine and I enjoy every mouthful. Why, I have actually been able to go to church in comfort, without fear of having to leave."

"I sleep all night long and take care of my garden without tiring in the least. And as for shortness of breath, why I hardly know what it means now. I tell you, I simply feel fine in every way. I have gained ten pounds already and feel at least 20 years younger."

"My neighbors are all marveling at my recovery, and I don't lose any time telling them about Karmak. I can't describe all my suffering and the wonderful difference Karmak has made in my life. I just know it is the greatest medicine that was ever on earth and I will never stop praising it to my dying day."

"My husband feels just like I do about Karmak, and he wouldn't let me stop taking it if it cost $15 a bottle. Karmak is sold in Atlanta exclusively by Jacobs Pharmacy; in Marietta by Hovies Drug Co.; in Decatur by Elkin Drug Co.; in East Point by Christian's Pharmacy; and by the leading druggist in every town.—(adv.)"

PLAN TO BROADCAST SARATOGA LAUNCHING
Washington, April 1.—The ceremonies attending the launching of the airplane carrier Saratoga, next Tuesday, by the New York Shipbuilding corporation, at Camden, N. J., will be broadcast by the General Electric company through the Radio Corporation of America's station WRC at Washington, WJZ at New York and WGY at Schenectady, N. Y.

Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur, wife of the secretary of the navy, will be the sponsor for the Saratoga when she is launched at 1:15 p. m. eastern standard time. Secretary Wilbur will speak at 2:30 on "The Saratoga. Another American Step Forward for the Navy." The broadcasting program will begin at 12:45 p. m. eastern standard time.

It will include the description of the launching and details of the Saratoga, and one of the leaders in local Elks affairs will be installed as exalted ruler, while the other officers will be elected.

AFRICAN WOMAN LIVES IN TRANCE FIFTEEN YEARS
Rietfontein, South Africa, April 1.—Scientists from England who have heard recently of the case of a woman here who has been in a trance for 15 years may come to Rietfontein to make extensive investigations with the hopes of helping the victim.

The woman is Miss Anna Swenepoel, of Lichtenburg, age 35, who became unconscious in 1910 when she was notified of the sudden death of her fiancé.

Not once, according to the attending physicians, since that time has the woman been fully conscious. After 11 years in her own home, under the care of relatives, she was taken to a hospital where attendants administered food and water every two hours.

Berlin, April 1.—The proposed commercial treaty between Germany and Spain was rejected today by the reichstag's committee, which declined to refer it to a plenary session of the reichstag and passed a resolution asking the government to initiate new negotiations.

ELKS TO INSTALL OFFICERS TONIGHT

Final plans were completed Wednesday for the installation Thursday night of the new officers of the local lodge of B. P. O. Elks.

The conference believes that persons whose progeny give promise of being of decided value to the community should be encouraged to bear as large families, properly spaced, as they feel they can manage, the resolution declared.

Roswell Johnson, of Pittsburgh, who introduced the resolution, urged that the birth control league cooperate with eugenicists. Although there were several dissenting opinions, Margaret Sanger, president of the American Birth Control league, declared that the two movements should work together as much as possible.

Dr. James F. Cooper, medical director of the league, Dr. Aletta Jacobs, of The Hague, and founder of the first birth control clinic in the world; and Dr. C. V. Drysdale, British leader in the movement, declined to favor the eugenics program.

INCOME TAX AUDITOR ARRESTED FOR FRAUD
Washington, April 1.—A further step in the government's roundup of alleged "tax-fixers" has been taken here, two outsiders who were at one time employed by the treasury.

Vernon, it is charged, conspired with Ellis D. Laskey, New York certified public accountant, to defraud the government in the income tax case of Houlder, Weir & Boyd. Laskey was arrested Tuesday morning and held on $25,000 bond, according to the bureau.

"The allegations are that Vernon and Laskey, by means of the presentation of a brief containing false statements and a balance sheet containing false information, intended to have the corporation assessed as a tax-exempt service corporation, which would have resulted in the elimination of a tax of approximately $104,000," the treasury statement said.

After the meeting in the lodge room an informal supper will be served all members attending in the Elks' dining room. All members who possible can are urged to attend.

J. Turner Fitten, prominent Atlantian, and one of the leaders in local Elks affairs will be installed as exalted ruler, while the other officers will be elected.

TULANE EXPEDITION FINDS MANY RELICS NEAR MEXICAN CITY
New Orleans, April 1.—Important finds of Maya relics near Mexico, in the state of Yucatan, have been made by the Tulane university expedition, in charge of Frans Blom, a cablegram received here today said.

The expedition, brought from the interior to the coast by an Indian runner, tells that ancient ruins were found at La Venta in the Yucatan forest, consisting of eight great monuments, one pyramid and one altar. This find extends the Maya area 100 miles west of the limit hitherto known, the message states.

OLD MOUQUIN CAFE PADLOCKED IN GOTHAM
New York, April 1.—For the first time in 100 years the doors of the old Mouquin cafe, which has been a restaurant on Sixth avenue, failed Tuesday to swing inward on scenes of hospitality and merriment. The interior of the place was bleak, dark and silent.

Mouquin's has been closed for a month by the government under a padlock order.

Two of Mouquin's waiters killed themselves by jumping from the roof over what prohibition had done to the old atmosphere of the place.

Permission Is Asked To Build New Rail Line in Pennsylvania
Washington, April 1.—A new railroad corporation, the New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago Railway company, filed application with the interstate commerce commission today for permission to build 34 miles of track, with a main line 285 miles long running almost entirely across Pennsylvania, east to west.

The company was organized in Pennsylvania last January and represented that it was not associated with any existing railroad. While no plans for financing were filed, the application was believed to be financed by sale of stocks and bonds.

84 GERMAN SOLDIERS BELIEVED DROWNED
Berlin, April 1.—It is believed that 84 soldiers perished in yesterday's disaster to a reichwehr contingent on the Weser. The ministry of defense stated today that five bodies had been recovered and that one officer and 78 men of the 100 soldiers known to have been plunged into the river by the sinking of a pontoon were missing.

When the pontoon carrying about 100 men across the Weser river began to sink, the officers immediately ordered the soldiers, most of whom were young and inexperienced, to rid themselves of their guns and kits, but the men, panic-stricken and dazed, hesitated to do so.

Many evidently thought they could wade to the shore which seemed quite near but as the river here is forced into a narrow channel about 20 feet wide, the current is rapid and the depth even near the shore is about nine feet. The soldiers were hot from marching and many were numbed by the shock of cold water and thus rendered incapable of helping themselves. Two sections had already been transported across on the pontoon ferry when the disaster occurred.

Large Families Are Encouraged For Best Stock

New York, March 31.—If parents are of superior stock, they should be encouraged to raise large families, delegates to the international birth control conference decided Tuesday when they passed a resolution which brings them into closer harmony with the eugenist movement.

The conference believes that persons whose progeny give promise of being of decided value to the community should be encouraged to bear as large families, properly spaced, as they feel they can manage, the resolution declared.

Roswell Johnson, of Pittsburgh, who introduced the resolution, urged that the birth control league cooperate with eugenicists. Berlin, April 1.—It is believed that 84 soldiers perished in yesterday's disaster to a reichwehr contingent on the Weser. The ministry of defense stated today that five bodies had been recovered and that one officer and 78 men of the 100 soldiers known to have been plunged into the river by the sinking of a pontoon were missing.

When the pontoon carrying about 100 men across the Weser river began to sink, the officers immediately ordered the soldiers, most of whom were young and inexperienced, to rid themselves of their guns and kits, but the men, panic-stricken and dazed, hesitated to do so.

Many evidently thought they could wade to the shore which seemed quite near but as the river here is forced into a narrow channel about 20 feet wide, the current is rapid and the depth even near the shore is about nine feet. The soldiers were hot from marching and many were numbed by the shock of cold water and thus rendered incapable of helping themselves. Two sections had already been transported across on the pontoon ferry when the disaster occurred.

JEWELRY THIEVES REPORTED ACTIVE, IN THEFT SERIES

After maintaining a "silent" period for a number of months jewelry thieves again became active Tuesday morning and made several big hauls.

The first report to reach police headquarters was made by Mrs. Sue Thornton, of 335 East North avenue. Thieves had entered her home and took three diamond rings, 2 sapphires, and a platinum bar pin, she said.

The greatest loss of the day was reported by T. I. Linier, operator of a jewelry store located at 45 Peachtree. A cash box was rifled and a ring containing 3 small diamonds, 3 diamond stick pins, 3 gold nuggets, 2 sets of earrings, 4 sterling silver belt buckles and a gold bar pin, were taken.

The third "job" charged to jewelry thieves was the theft of a gold watch from the residence of Mrs. E. L. Evans, 200 Berne street.

W. W. Abbott, of Greenville, Ga., reported the loss of a pocketbook containing a $20 bill and a number of railroad passes which he missed while on a trip.

The count explained, however, that obtaining a shine in a downtown shoe shine and hat cleaning establishment.

Count Karolyi Latest Convert To Prohibition
New York, April 1.—Count Michael Karolyi, former president of Hungary, has declared himself "absolutely in favor of prohibition as against moderation," after a week-end visit with Governor and Mrs. Pinchot at Harrisburg, Pa. The count said today he had changed his views because of "overwhelming intellectual proof of the advantage of rigid prohibition."

"He talked to me about it for hours," said Count Karolyi, "and I too am ardently for prohibition, although I like wine. Prohibition is one of the greatest things America has ever tried."

At this point the count was asked whether he would like a cigarette. "Thank you, yes," he replied. "I myself," he explained, "have not used to these harmful drugs and they have weakened me doubtless, so that I have no intention of giving them up."

Barn Burns at Americus.
Americus, Ga., April 1.—(Special.) Fourteen mules, two Jersey cows, several large hogs, farm machinery and feedstuffs were lost yesterday in a fire believed to have been of incendiary origin, which completely destroyed a barn on J. C. Carter's farm. Insurance on the barn and its contents amounted to $2,650 and was carried by Mr. Carter.

Calatabs are a real doctor's medicine.
The best of their kind ever devised. Kings, presidents and millionaires have traveled far and have paid rich fees to the world's greatest physicians to have regained their health by this medicine. But now, thanks to modern manufacturing methods, even the poorest person can easily find the price of a package of Calatabs for their ailments. They are now manufactured by the millions, in one of the largest medical laboratories in the world, and are sold wherever medicines are sold, in convenient, economical packages, price thirty-five cents for a large, family package.

Calatabs are composed of a thoroughly purified and refined calomel combined with assistants and correctives. The calomel increases the flow of the bile and every physician knows that no other medicine can take its place; there is no such thing as a substitute for calomel. The assistants act like salts, washing the calomel out of the system and preventing its accumulation and any possibility of danger. The correctives settle the stomach and bowels, preventing nausea, sickness and griping effects.

Calatabs (and water) therefore, give you the combined effects of calomel and salts without the nauseating, sickening, griping and dangerous effects of either.

The medicine chest of every home should be supplied with Calatabs, the most important of all family medicines, for they are needed in almost every case of sickness, and, if used promptly, they prevent many cases of serious illness.

Directions for Using Calatabs:
Complete directions, in plain language which every one can understand, are contained in each package of Calatabs. Ask your retail druggist to order a package for you. The price, only thirty-five cents for a large family package, will be cheerfully refunded if you are not delighted with the results.—(adv.)

When the Loan Agent Makes an Appraisal
In appraising a home for a loan—the agent has certain facts that he must consider—location—construction—chance of increased valuation and owners satisfaction. In considering the latter the heating plant is an important factor—for a satisfactory heating system goes a long way toward making a contented home owner.

Successful builders realizing this are installing Moncrief Furnaces because they know that the Moncrief is scientifically installed by skilled heating mechanics with a specific guarantee of satisfactory heat under all weather conditions.

Naturally Loan Agents make higher appraisals on the Moncrief Heated Homes for they know that the builder who has paid more for a Moncrief has been just as conscientious in the selection of other materials, in the construction of the home.

HEALTH

How to Get It and How to Keep It

If the reading of this article teaches you only this one lesson about your own body it may be worth more than millions of dollars to you; for of what use is money without health, or after you are dead?

The lesson is this:—"Keep your system pure and you will have health and strength to gain and enjoy happiness, success and length of years."

But you may ask:—
How Can I Keep My System Pure?

That is not a hard question to answer, for physiology plainly teaches you that your liver, which is larger than all of your other vital organs combined, has the special work of purifying your blood and thereby your entire system and of keeping it pure and healthy.

How Does the Liver Purify?
Physicians tell us that the liver purifies the system by manufacturing a greenish-yellow, bitter fluid called the bile, which between meals, is kept in the gall-bladder, but after each meal is poured out into the intestines. The bile is purgative and antiseptic or germicidal. In health, it is your blood cleanser, and keeps the bowels moving regularly and freely every day. It is Nature's only purgative. It is your bile that keeps your bowels pure, sweet, clean and free from the germs of fermentation (gas), putrefaction, decay and disease. Remember that germs cannot live where there is bile and there can therefore be no fermentation to cause gas, nor putrefaction or decay to produce poisons or toxins. Also, as bile is Nature's purgative, there can be no constipation if the bile is flowing naturally and freely into the bowels after each meal.

But when the bile stops flowing freely your bowels stop acting regularly and the contents become a foul, stagnant, brethy mass for the germs of fermentation (gas) decay and disease. These poisons (called toxins) are gradually absorbed into your blood and circulate all over your body, poisoning, irritating or inflaming your brain and nerves, your muscles and joints, your heart, lungs, skin, kidneys, bladder, spleen and every vital organ of your body including your liver, stomach and bowels.

Nature's Danger Signals
When your car gets out of fix you can tell it. It is the same way with your liver. Nature gives you warning—not by words, but by signals or symptoms. Your doctor recognizes these danger signals and he also should know them and instantly heed them.

How to Make the Bile Flow
We have learned that bile is Nature's purgative and Nature's antiseptic (or germ killer) for the bowels; that, in health, bile keeps the bowels moving regularly and freely every day and prevents fermentation, gas, putrefaction, decay, disease and self-poisoning.

But when the bile stops flowing freely, how can we start it up again? The answer is, Take Calatabs at bedtime and drink water freely the next day. This treatment represents the best thought and experience of the best physicians in every civilized country of the world. No other purgative will do. If you take oils, salts, castor, or the many other simple-laxative syrups, powders and candy-laxatives, you are merely wasting valuable time. They only make you feel better for a day or two. They do not remove the cause for they do not increase the flow of the bile which is Nature's only purgative and intestinal antiseptic. When you take Calatabs you know that you have taken a real doctor's medicine. It cleans you out thoroughly. Every inch of your twenty-five foot canal, including your stomach, small intestines and large intestines, is thoroughly cleaned and washed clean and pure and your bile is flowing freely. Next morning your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please and go about your work—there is no danger, for Calatabs are perfectly safe and create no habit except the habit of health.

What are Calatabs—How Do They Act?
Calatabs are a real doctor's medicine—the best of their kind ever devised. Kings, presidents and millionaires have traveled far and have paid rich fees to the world's greatest physicians to have regained their health by this medicine. FRENCH TO AVOID MONEY INFLATION

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Paris, April 1.—Official announcement was made tonight that the government will not resort to inflation of the circulation for needs of state. It will keep within the limits of legal advances from the Bank of France to the treasury.

After a cabinet meeting lasting far into the night, the following communiqué was issued:

"The cabinet studied the increases in the appropriations which the ministers have asked for in the course of the discussion of their departmental budgets in the senate, and which will be limited to the indispensable necessities of the services."

"The government, true to the declaration it made not to ask any inflation for needs of state and to remain within the limits of legal advances from the Bank of France to the treasury, examined the means it will propose to meet the present needs of commerce without falling in that engagement."

BANDIT WILL TAKE STAND AS WITNESS

One of them, J. Henry Fitzgerald, of Hartford, declared there was not "one chance in ten million" that the marks on these bullets could have been made by another gun.

Under cross-examination, Groch was unable to make these experts admit that the same markings could have been made on bullets fired through another gun, except in remote cases. Groch sought to get testimony to this effect into the record through a defense fire-arms expert, William A. Jones, former captain of New York police. Jones, cross-examined by State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn, admitted the bullets introduced in evidence by the state "apparently were fired by the same gun."

Other defense witnesses gave testimony designed to tear down prosecution testimony, which placed Chapman in the company of Walter E. Shean, the Springfield advertising man, who said the fugitive mail robber was his safe looting companion on the New Britain job.

Chapman Not in Car.
James Trindasenis, a fruitier of Springfield, said Shean, known to him for two years, had come to his store at 2 o'clock the morning of the murder. Shean, he said, and his two companions were in a car answering the description of the so-called Chapman motor, with Shean at the wheel. Shean's own testimony, as well as that of other witnesses, had placed him in the Old Colony Inn at that hour. Neither of Shean's companions was Chapman, the fruitier insisted. Edward L. Johnson, New Britain stableman, who had identified in a New York jail George Stuyvesant as the man he had seen with Shean at the department store robbery, was another defense witness. He reiterated today that he believed Stuyvesant was an ex-convict, whose home is in Albany, N. Y. Shean's safe-looking companion. He had seen the robber three times, he testified, and he was positive that Chapman was not the man.

Court was adjourned with the announcement that Chapman would take the stand in his own defense tomorrow morning, and that all the evidence in the case would have been submitted with the close of the day's first session.

Only One Man in Car.
Dr. David Waskowitz, of New Britain, first of the defense witnesses, testified he had driven his motor car in the vicinity of the Davidson & Leventhal department store, the scene of the crime, at 4 o'clock the morning of the robbery and murder. He saw a large car stop near a newspaper office, he said. Only one man alighted from it, he added, a man he was unable to identify.

James Pendennis, a Springfield, Mass., fruitier, testified he had seen Shean and two companions in Springfield at 2 o'clock the Sunday morning of the crime. Neither of Shean's two companions was Chapman, he testified. He also said Shean was driving the motor car previously identified as Chapman's.

Shean previously testified he never had driven Chapman's car. Other prosecution witnesses placed Shean and Chapman in Meridian the night of the crime.

Skelly Identifies Shean.
Sergeant McCue, of the New Britain police, testified that Skelly, dying, had recognized him when he brought Walter Shean to his bedside. McCue said he asked Skelly if he knew the man with him.

"Yes," Skelly replied, according to McCue. "He's the man that done it—shot me. He had a gray hat on."

Chapman wore a gray hat the morning of the crime, the prosecution contends. Shean was said to have worn one of brown.

Shean's state witness was Chapman's companion in a store robbery in which Skelly was shot.

Sergeant Matthias Rival, of New Britain, testified much as had McCue.

Could Not Identify Murderer.
Arthur W. Baglin, a store manager of New Britain, testified that Police- man Alvin E. Atwater, the state's only witness to the actual shooting, had told him that he could not identify the man he had seen shoot Skelly.

Baglin said Atwater, on whose beat his store was, had entered his store a few hours after the crime, and in a general conversation that followed said:

"I could not recognize the man who did the shooting. I saw him."

Atwater had testified that he saw Skelly's slayer as he fired the first shot, and that the gunman was Chapman. Baglin said Atwater told him he was hiding behind a store counter at the time Skelly was shot.

Dropped Back of Counter.
Under cross-examination by Hugh M. Alcorn, the state's prosecutor, Baglin said Atwater had told him the gunman was standing in a bad light, and that he got but a poor view of him, although he noticed he had a small mustache. Atwater told him, Baglin said, that he had dropped back of the counter "quick as I could."

Mrs. Irene Buckland, a nurse in the New Britain hospital at the time of Skelly's death, testified she had heard Skelly identify Shean as the gunman.

Francis M. Grew, of Brooklyn, N. Y., bank clerk, and John A. Martin and Charles Chastane, also of Brooklyn, identified Chapman as the man they had seen in Chastane's stationery store in Brooklyn the night of October 11, ten hours before the New Britain murder.

Together Before Murder.
The stand that he had met Chapman in the stand that he had met Chapman in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, said the prisoner had called on him, and that they were together until after 2 o'clock the next morning, less than five hours before the murder.

Henry Johnson, a New Britain hostler, testified he saw Shean's companion three times the morning of the murder and declared positively that Chapman was not that man.

Johnson declared he was positive that the man he had picked out of a New York lineup last December as the companion of Shean was the right man. This was George Stuyvesant, an ex-convict, who later was released.

Accidents Increase.
With the toll of deaths and injuries from automobile accidents steadily climbing, Acting Chief of Police E. L. Jett Wednesday issued an order calling for drastic enforcement of traffic laws.

Inauguration of the crusade against reckless driving and speeding followed the long string of automobile accidents of the past two days resulting in two deaths and a larger number of injured persons, and the report of automobile accidents for March, made public by the Atlanta Safety council.

During the month of March 4 persons were killed and 81 injured in a total of 144 automobile accidents, showing a decided increase over the February totals of 3 killed and 54 injured in 131 accidents.

Chief Jett expressed a determination to lower this total materially for April and has ordered 18 transfers in several bureaus of his department "for the general efficiency of the department."

Speeders Must Go.
"I am determined to lower that score this month. It is within the power of the police department to do so," he declared Wednesday. "It can be done and it must be done."

"My men are going the limit in enforcing traffic ordinances. Speeding must stop; the automobile law must be respected, and the dinner ordinance must be observed. People may take chances and escape the death penalty, but they won't escape my men."

C. C. Aiken, Grady hospital ambulance driver, who was seriously injured when his ambulance crashed into a "Dixie" street car early Tuesday morning, was returned to the hospital from his home late Wednesday, after he took a turn for the worse.

Aiken was injured in the accident that already has resulted in the death of Mrs. Maude Blackwell, 38, of Buckhead. Mrs. Blackwell was being taken to the hospital for emergency treatment and sustained a fractured skull in the crash. Death followed several hours later.

With Mrs. Blackwell were her husband, Mr. J. C. Blackwell, and her daughter, Miss Cleo Blackwell, who was suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Both sustained painful cuts. Mr. Blackwell was cut about the face with a glass from the shattered windshield.

very necessary improvements. "We are injured in the accident that already has resulted in the death of Mrs. Maude Blackwell, 38, of Buckhead. Mrs. Blackwell was being taken to the hospital for emergency treatment and sustained a fractured skull in the crash. Death followed several hours later."

Mr. Atkinson's statement follows: "Reports of my remarks before the traction committee of council may have been misunderstood. I am not making any suggestion with regard to the impressions that the company was threatening not to cooperate with the city in building viaducts and thus was making it impossible for the city to make certain concessions."

"Such an impression is entirely in error. Nothing was further from my mind. On the contrary, the street railroad is ready and willing to cooperate in every possible way."

"The city already has shown its willingness to deal fairly with the company. I have the utmost faith in the fairness of the mayor and members of council. We have never said anything that suggests withdrawing cooperation to the extent of its ability in any plan in the public interest."

Explains Statement.
"What I said to the committee was that the street railroad must be placed on a living basis to enable it to borrow money necessary to meet its share of the cost of viaducts and other civic improvements. I have said this every time I have talked on the subject, whether publicly or privately, for over two years. I made exactly this statement at the city meeting in my office last week with the railroad president."

"I believe that the city is doing its best to put the street railroad on this living basis."

"I favor the viaducts. The street railroad stands ready to contribute to the extent of its ability in their construction. I consider the building of the viaducts the most important forward step Atlanta can take. It is the essential initial step in the whole proposed plan of civic expansion and public improvement."

Railway Is Willing.
"The street railroad petitioned the city government to put it on a self-sustaining basis. It suggested a plan which it thought was the best method of doing this. But it said it would try any fair plan the public thought was to its interest."

"The city employed the Beeler organization to report on the street railroad situation but the Beeler plan goes much further than the street railroad problem and provides a great city plan of public improvements in which the street railroad is a mere incident."

"It will cost the street railroad at least $3,000,000 to carry out the recommendations of the Beeler report. Our petition for street railroad relief can be granted by the city with practically no expenditure of new money, either by the city or the street railroad company. If the city wishes to carry out the Beeler plan of civic expansion the street railroad is willing to cooperate in that purpose provided it can raise the $3,000,000 necessary. It cannot raise that large amount of money, a substantial part of which would go directly into public city improvements and not the street railroad, unless the city first is willing to enter into an agreement with the street railroad which will reestablish its credit so it can borrow the money to carry out the Beeler plan if the city decides to adopt it."

"This is mainly a public plan of improvement as distinguished from the transportation system. I admit it is wholly for the city to decide whether the Beeler plan should be adopted and whether it shall make this contract with the street railroad."

"This is a plain business problem. It is not a matter of my opinion or any decision of mine. It is the unavoidable and only practical method by which the money can be raised to carry out the work. There is no other way that I know of."

"No one is more in favor of what the city and the public wants than the street railroad, but the clear distinction between the street railroad and the Beeler plan of public improvements must be kept clearly in mind."

Plan for Viaduct.
Preliminary plans for the viaducts were discussed by engineers attending the meeting Wednesday morning, and other conferences will be called in the near future. It is hoped that everything will be in readiness to proceed with construction of the viaducts as soon as permission to build them is granted."

At Wednesday's meeting were: Colonel L. L. Morton, representing the Louisville and Nashville railroad; Hunter McDonald, of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis road; L. R. Young, of the Atlanta joint terminal; G. G. Adair and Frank Smith, of the Georgia Railway & Power company; C. E. Kaufman, city engineer, and members of the construction firm of Spiker & Loose, representing local property holders.

ALLEGED WOMAN KIDNAPER HELD

Mrs. Mary Holiday, pretty Annieston, Ala., widow, and Moses Goldstein, reputed wealthy business man, also of Annieston, were taken into custody by Atlanta officers late Wednesday following advice from Annieston police to the effect that Goldstein had been kidnapped.

Dispatches from Annieston earlier in the day stated that Mrs. Holiday had shot at Goldstein as he sought to escape, after meeting her in an isolated section of the city. She followed him and forced him into a taxicab, according to reports, and took to Piedmont, Ala., nearby, where they boarded a train for Atlanta.

Mrs. Holiday is said to be the widow of an Annieston policeman who was shot and killed three years ago. Goldstein's wife died a few months ago, leaving 5 small children, he said.

Mrs. Holiday and Goldstein told conflicting stories of the episode which, according to news dispatches, has stirred Annieston for the past several hours.

Mr. Armistead stated that the present method of naming the chief is "un-American," and is done nowhere but here. However, Chief Cody claims that a similar method is used in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and practically all large cities.

Cody no longer will have supervision over the fire alarms or master mechanic's departments, and both superintendent of fire alarms and master mechanic shall be responsible directly to the committee.

Previously both departments were under jurisdiction of the chief, and he was responsible to the committee.

Instead of the old two-platoon system, the new rules provide that men on opposite shift shall be paired and when the partner on the off-shift reports before the changing hour, the commanding officer shall permit his partner to report off duty if requested.

With the rules now in effect the assistant chief shall have entire jurisdiction at all times when the chief is not at the station, and is answerable only to the committee, instead of to the chief.

Row Flares Anew.
The fight between Chief Cody and Alderman Armistead began to smolder early last year, soon after Armistead's appointment to the chairmanship of the committee. Shortly afterwards, Armistead attempted to pass new rules which would curtail the chief's power, but the motion was defeated.

The battle broke into open flame two weeks ago when Armistead introduced a resolution in city council asking the legislature to make the chief of the department elected every other year. Those three were the only ones in attendance at Wednesday's session.

SOVIET DENIES REPORTED FLIGHT OF LEON TROTSKY

Berlin, April 1.—Dispatches from Riga report that former Minister Trotsky has fled from Suchum in the Caucasus, where he was staying for his health, together with the Communists Kats and Nikolenko, who had been stationed there to "observe him."

The soviet embassy here today characterized the dispatches as "non-sense," adding:

"We have just received a telegram reporting that Mr. Trotsky has greatly improved. Only recently he delivered a public address. He is busy with his literary work at Suchum."

"I was angry. I loved my baby's clothing and pictures more than anything else in the world; my husband knew it. He took them and hid them. I obtained a revolver that I had won last Christmas and went straight to the drugstore, which my husband was operating."

Witnesses say that there were some words passed between the two and according to the police the woman pulled the gun and fired twice. One bullet passed through Wood's chest and lodged in the spine. He has little chance to live, doctors say.

Mrs. Wood ran from the drugstore, with the smoking pistol still in her hands, and sought refuge in a neighbor's house, where she telephoned for the sheriff to come and get her.

Federal officers say that Wood is under indictment on charges of sending narcotics through the mail and for alleged violation of the Harrison war-cotic law in the sale of narcotics.

Wood carried $7,500 accident insurance.

ENGLAND OFFERS U. S. AD WRITERS MANY GOOD JOBS

London, April 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Notwithstanding the fact that there are more than 1,000,000 unemployed in England, there are jobs paying $10,000 a year going begging. Sir Charles Higham, London's best known publicity man, said recently in an address to the British association of Display men:

"People have come to me," Sir Charles declared, "crying out for men capable of earning $10,000 annually, and I have said in reply: 'You will have to go to the United States to find them.'"

Sir Charles explained that he had offered the suggestion to search abroad for candidates, because there were so few young men here who had prepared themselves for the horizon of jobs paying $10,000 a year.

Merit and Quality Win!

Our Sales in March Were Greater Than For Any Other Month In Our History---

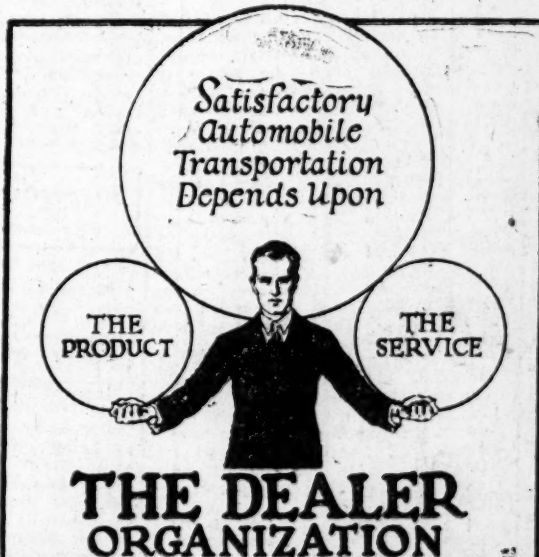

To be exact, 153 new and used cars, representing net cash sales of $139,496.69

This is 12% greater than our best previous month and is within 10% of our total net business for our first six months—ending just three years ago.

We started this business three and a half years ago with a firm belief that good service, a good product, and an organization eager to give a full measure and a square deal would win!

Our growth from the first has proven the soundness of this policy, and our sales today bespeak the measure of our success in maintaining the standard we set in the very beginning.

THE TRAFFIC SITUATION.

The Atlanta Safety council made public Wednesday the statistics of fatal accidents, differentiated by causes, for the first three months of 1925 as compared with the similar period of 1924.

In total fatalities from all causes the decrease this year over last year was encouragingly heavy, total fatalities for the first quarter of 1925 being 43 as compared to 27 this year.

But for accidents from motor vehicles exclusively the increase this year has been alarmingly heavy, a total of 8 in the first quarter of 1925 as against 13 this year.

The completed table follows:

Something must be done and that speedily and drastically to arrest this tendency. The traffic boulevards, admittedly an advanced step toward traffic safety in every large city, have no doubt contributed to safety in Atlanta. The Safety council is conducting a vigorous campaign of education, especially in the schools, organizing safe drivers' clubs, and coordinating with the safety departments of practically every organization and industry in Atlanta. The police are alert. It is ridiculous to say these combined agencies are not contributing substantially toward street safety. What would be the situation were it not for them?

Here is one trouble and a serious one—council made a grave mistake when it disbanded the traffic bureau and distributed traffic enforcement among otherwise heavily burdened enforcement forces. It has been proven in every large city in America that while all police officials should rigidly enforce traffic laws, an organized force of specialists in this work, charged with that specific duty and that alone, can produce the best results.

The situation today demands a restoration of a traffic bureau, without friction or politics or police department jealousies, but along strictly cooperative lines for the one purpose of saving human lives and making Atlanta's streets as safe as humanly possible.

These flurries campaigns may do good—and any good is welcome, when lives and limbs are involved. But Atlanta needs a campaign against speeders and traffic violations every day, every hour in the year. Nothing else will suffice.

FIRESTONE A VISITOR.

In the visit of Harvey S. Firestone, of Akron, Ohio, to Atlanta today, the city is entertaining a man distinguished for his unselfish service to American development far more than as merely the executive head of one of the great rubber tire manufacturing industries of the nation.

His work for permanent interstate highways is as notable as that of any one individual in the country, and he has contributed large sums of money annually, including completed university courses, to the high school winners in essay contests, on the economic value of paved highways.

Perhaps his most notable work, however, has been his fight against British colonial control and monopoly of existing rubber supplies. He originated the movement to grow rubber under the American flag, and is heavily interested in the growing of rubber on American soil to demonstrate the feasibility of breaking a monopoly centered in another nation.

Another remarkable feature about his business administration is that every employee of his factory—some 12,000—are his partners.

Mr. Firestone is one of America's outstanding captains of industry and Atlanta extends to him a cordial welcome.

THE GERMAN VOTE.

The public mind appears confused as to the German election.

Last Sunday's balloting for president of the German reich was more in the nature of a primary than anything else, and it fell 3,000,000 votes short of the reichstag elections of last winter.

The lack of interest has been attributed to the general understanding that under the circumstances no nomination could be made. The balloting, however, seems to forecast the election of a coalition republican candidate when the regular election for president is held on April 26.

The nationalist bloc, with a control of 37 per cent of the reichstag, polled 38 1-2 per cent of the popular vote Sunday. The socialists, with 27 per cent of the reichstag, polled 29 per cent of the popular vote. The centrists, with 14 per cent of the reichstag, and the communists showed distinctive losses, holding 5 per cent of the reichstag, but received only 7 per cent of the popular vote.

It is confidently predicted that in the final election the republican coalition will hold a majority of a half million out of a total vote of possibly 30,000,000, which is a narrow but safe margin, if predictions come true.

YOUNG AT SEVENTY.

John Hays Hammond, internationally famous mining engineer, celebrated his 70th birthday in Washington Tuesday.

To a party of friends he related again his experiences in 1895-96 in the Jameson raid in South Africa. He was sentenced to death for his connection with the raid, and for a time it appeared that no influence could stay the execution of the sentence.

Mr. Hammond has frequently said he expected to pay the penalty, and made his preparations to do so, even to the extent of writing a diary of the raid to be published after the execution. Through the earnest intervention of this and other nations he was subsequently released on paying a fine of $125,000.

Active in republican politics, and an expert in his profession and as an economic counsellor, the government has frequently drafted his services, the last time as chairman of the federal coal commission in 1927. He was prominently mentioned for vice president in 1903 on the ticket with Taft.

This nation has not produced a better nor a more useful citizen, nor one with a more stirring and picturesque career. The Constitution wishes him many more happy birthdays.

John Hays Hammond is young at seventy.

TO CRUSH INSURGENCY.

According to Washington dispatches Congressman Longworth, the next speaker, and Tilson, the next majority floor leader, have been in conference with President Coolidge, the result of which is a program for tightening the rules, the reintroduction of the old Cannon policies, and a complete administration clutch upon the house during the 69th congress. This, it is understood, is President Coolidge's answer to the insurgent factions which have so far defeated his entire legislative schedule, and virtually torn the senate from the grasp of the party regulars.

It is the plan to revive in the rules committee of the house the same pocket veto power it had during the long chairmanship of Representative Phil Campbell, of Kansas. This pocket veto rule makes it impossible to even consider legislation that does not meet the approval of the leaders.

The new rules planned will not only increase the power of the speaker but make party control absolute. And this is the president's plan for crushing out insurgency and for making the congressional record that will be exploited in the congressional elections of 1926.

The rules committee will be made the foundation upon which the new machinery is to be erected. With the power of committee assignments in the hands of a committee on committees, the power of recognition with the speaker and the power of the appropriations committee, it can be seen that insurgency will be too unprofitable to be attractive.

Whatever else may be said about the president, there is no argument as to his nerve and tenacity of purpose.

The Lawrence Journal—World

wants to know the moral, if any, contained in the fact that Walter Camp, famous exponent of athletic principles, is dead at 66, while Chauncey M. Depew, famous lawyer, is alive and well at 90—Kansas City Star.

Probably one reason is that the "famous" person exercises his voice more than he coddles his appetite at the banquet board. In his book, "Liberary Anecdotes and Contributions," he writes of his eighty-second birthday anniversary: "I keep going. I do everything I ever did and enjoy it just as much. My own work alone does not live on his own work alone, of course, but by a wholesome interest in every department of life. It is work that counts. Eating and sleeping have little to do with health and longevity, unless one indulges too much in them. As for food, half of my friends have dug their graves with their teeth."

Playtime.

Little girl, with laughing eyes—

Life is big and blue

Innocence—blossoming.

Trust—abundant through—

You're summertime

With sunshine.

Little girl, with lightest hair—

Hair so soft and flowing,

It's hard for me to realize

How little you are growing—

Growing away

Every day.

Little girl, with sweetest lips—

I'd love to keep you as you are,

Never let you grow

(If I could)

To womanhood.

And now comes the free-for-all opera of the brain, in the flowering of the mind, with all the old favorites in fine singing fettle.

"It's a foolish saying—that about giving the devil his due," says the Adams Enterprise, "for in that case, had not so many of us that there wouldn't be a corporal's guard left in town?"

Good Morning!

Trees—springtime heralds do

To the nodding world and you—

World that's worth the pulling through!

Seem to say:

"Through my holiday

And be happy while you may."

And the birds sing to the blue

(Oh, heaven, and the heart of you:

"Here's a living world, made new!"

On the way

Make holiday

And be happy while you may."

All have their troubles. For instance, the Pleasant Hill Times says:

"Firemen must feel bad when they find their fire trucks are being used to haul away the bodies of the dead."

THE BITS OF HOLLAND LIFE

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

Everyone in Holland seems happy and well contented. Everywhere flocks of geese waddling along with their eternal quack-quack. The old men sit squatting in groups, puffing at their long cigars. The youth here are big and strapping and sturdy.

Just as I am in the midst of a Holland rhapsody, a man came through the door, saying: "Telegram! Telegram for Mr. Isaac Cohen!" I had to shake myself. Surely I must be dreaming. For this sounded for all the world like a lobby of a New York hotel.

Mr. Cohen, by the way, happened to be in my compartment. He is on his way to Amsterdam after being in America for 21 years. His brother is there. He has prospered in the United States, and now he is returning to his native land. I spoke to him of the indifference to human suffering in Holland. At the moment I rather thought I would like to spend my approaching old age there. Mr. Cohen had a bland, generous smile and shrugged. "The most motonous country in the world," he said. "They believe as clabby as my cheese."

I suppose Mr. Cohen is right. People who remain in America very long do not easily transplant to Holland.

It is my belief that most of the Americans living over here who try to give up the impression of congeniality are really "kidding" themselves.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

The Devil

in Flanders.

Plans are on foot to revive certain bits of the world's window in Flanders. They are to be played in exactly the same manner as back in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries and will, no doubt, draw the same immense crowds to the Flemish coast as the spectacles in the long ago.

The regents of a centuries-old almshouse not wishing the young students of the Latin school to spend their holidays in idleness, have decided to have the writer in a group whose duty it was to catalogue and file the contents of huge chests of medieval manuscripts that had been hidden in one of the cellars of the institution. Among the papers cleaned, classified and transcribed with a great deal of signing and looking up lexicons there was one describing a mystery play given in the Ghent cathedral in A. D. 1555.

According to the parchment the time was Christmas and the old imperial city was filled with great crowds; artisans, painters of stained glass, wood-carvers, manuscript illuminators and scholars were gathered in the streets. After midnight mass the crowd surged on the flagstones in the church, passing cakes and other refreshments, remained to watch the "mystery."

The scene of the mystery was enacted. The old chronicle relates that there was no small congregation when members in the congregation recognized familiar faces among the lay actors. The

Health and Beauty Lectures HEARD BY HUNDREDS OF WOMEN

Before an even larger crowd than heard her first lecture Tuesday morning, Mrs. Margaret Josephine Blair, internationally famous health and beauty expert, delivered her second lecture in Atlanta under the auspices of The Constitution at the Howard theater Wednesday morning. Mrs. Blair was given an enthusiastic reception by the big crowd composed mostly of women, and at the end of the lecture The Constitution was given a rising vote of thanks for bringing Mrs. Blair to Atlanta. Nearly 2,000 heard the initial lecture Tuesday.

Mrs. Blair devoted much of her second lecture to discussion of proper methods to be used in the care of the skin and in restoring and preserving the complexion in all its natural beauty. She advocated the use of cleansing soaps and creams instead of cosmetics for the complexion and outlined a series of exercises which she said should be taken to strengthen the small muscles of the neck and throat.

At 10 o'clock Thursday morning Mrs. Blair will give a lecture for women only at the auditorium of the Woman's club on Peachtree street.

She will organize her first Atlanta health club Thursday and this club will begin its work at the Biltmore hotel Friday morning.

"I do all my work in the morning and I am going to begin my health work in Atlanta by getting these women out of bed early," Mrs. Blair said.

In her lecture Wednesday Mrs. Blair said bobbed hair is all right and she approves of it, but she scored the methods used by many women in constantly combing their hair in public. "I like bobbed hair all right, but I do not like to sit in a theater behind a bobbed head and have it combed all into my lap," she said.

Mrs. Blair also scored the practice of "making up" in public, in which some women indulge.

"There is nothing more disgusting than to see a woman pull out a box and go to making her toilet in a public place like a dining room or a hotel lobby," Mrs. Blair said and the big crowd of women applauded.

Mrs. Blair, who is 63 years old and a grandmother, appeared in a sleeveless gown of her own design in her second lecture and danced across the stage with all the grace and spirit of a young girl.

Neck First Shows Age.
"The neck is one of the first parts of the body to show the ravages of age," Mrs. Blair said Wednesday. "I have a series of exercises which will strengthen the muscles of the neck and will remove all surplus flesh. The muscles, when restored to normal condition, will bulge out all the wrinkles. Hugging a cleansing cream into the neck and necking it in tight by patting also tends to remove the wrinkles."

Mrs. Blair then uttered the sound of certain letters, each of which put into use a different set of muscles in the throat.

"It will not take long to restore the neck to normal condition if these exercises are followed regularly and properly," she said.

Beautiful hair is possible for a woman at any age, according to Mrs. Blair. She declared that dandruff on the scalp is caused by failure to clean the head thoroughly. She advised her hearers to remove the dust and dirt from the head every night through the use of a stiff brush.

Illustrates System.
Mrs. Blair illustrated in several ways how exercises can keep the complexion clear and can restore the freshness of youth to complexions even under adverse conditions.

After her lecture Mrs. Blair was greeted by a large number of women who expressed appreciation of her work and who denounced a desire to join her health club which she will organize in Atlanta. She has received dozens of calls at her rooms at the Biltmore from women who talked to her about methods of restoring health and beauty.

The Constitution has certainly given its readers a complete and from the way the women have visited me, have called me over telephone and have written me from all parts of the state, the people of Georgia certainly must read The Constitution thoroughly every day," Mrs. Blair said.

WEST VIRGINIA STRIKE ON COAL FIELDS OPENS
Morgantown, W. Va., April 1.—A mass meeting of miners, addressed by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, the suspension of a number of union mines and a statement by union leaders that a campaign had been opened "to organize every coal mine in West Virginia," today marked the opening of a general strike of coal miners in the northern West Virginia fields.

Van A. Bittner, international representative of the United Mine Workers of America, in an address here, declared plans were being made to organize the McDowell and Logan county fields. He announced that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, would come to the state capital in a few weeks to make a series of addresses.

Announcement of the closing of union mines was accompanied with statements that union operators were unable to operate at a profit under the present wage scale in competition with non-union mines, both in this and other fields.

Discussing the situation in the northern West Virginia fields, Mr. Green said the purpose of the strike call among other things was "to establish a decent living wage scale."

He continued: "The war is on, figuratively speaking, for better living conditions. I want to echo the call and join in the appeal to the men to respond and stand like a stone wall until you win."

Replying to claims of operators that they were unable to operate under the present union scale, President Green said, "if the industry cannot pay a decent wage to the men who daily risk their lives in the mines, then the industry deserves to die. It can pay a decent wage scale and we say it must pay a decent wage scale."

FRANCO-GERMAN PACT NEGOTIATIONS HALTED

Paris, April 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The negotiations for a commercial treaty between France and Germany came to another halt today when M. Raymond, minister of commerce, and Herr Posse, head of the German delegation, failed to settle a disagreement which arose over the number of French articles which the Germans desired to bar from the benefits of the "most favored nation clause."

A compromise appeared unlikely and unless the German delegates get new instructions from Berlin, it is thought the negotiations will be called off.

POSTAL INCREASE HITS BABY CHICK BUSINESS

Americus, Ga., April 1.—(Special.) D. F. Davenport, local postmaster, is anxious to ascertain just what effect the 25 cents additional charge on shipments of baby chicks, prescribed in the postal rate increase effective April 15, will have on shipments through the American postoffice. The shipping of baby chicks has recently merged into the class of the cotton and peach industry and the postoffice has derived much revenue from this source.

Several of the day-old chick breeders have stated that they no doubt will feel the effects of the increase in their out-of-town business, as the postal regulations call for the affixing of the 25 cents stamp on shipments of one chick to 100.

FIRESTONE VISITOR IN ATLANTA TODAY

A busy day's program of business and social pleasure has been arranged for Harvey S. Firestone, head of the great Firestone Tire and Rubber company and one of the world's business leaders, who will reach Atlanta this morning en route to Washington from Florida, where he has been on a vacation. Accompanying Mr. Firestone will be two of his sons, who were with him in Florida.

Mr. Firestone will be honored at noon with a luncheon at the Biltmore, arranged in order that he may meet a number of leading business men of the city. Among them will be Thomas K. Glenn, R. E. Maddox, Frank Hawkins, H. Lane Young, Clark Howell, Jr., Major John S. Cohen, T. K. Johnson, president of the Atlanta Automobile association; W. C. Harris, manager of the Atlanta Firestone branch; out-of-town dealers in Firestone products, and others.

A conference with salesmen and a motor trip to Stone Mountain are also planned for the tire executive.

CANTATA TO BE SUNG AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

St. Luke's Episcopal choir will sing the sacred cantata "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Dubois on Wednesday night, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. This is considered by many as the most dramatic and beautiful of the cantatas depicting the crucifixion of Christ. The assisting artist will be A. W. Browning, tenor soloist of Ponce de Leon Baptist church. The cantata will be given under the direction of Miss Dora Duck, organist and choir-master of St. Luke's. On Easter day special festival music will be rendered by the choir assisted by Mrs. Mary Miller Trowell, violinist, who also will assist on Palm Sunday morning.

PAVING BOND BIDS TO BE OPENED TODAY

Bids of $79,000 worth of street paving bonds will be opened this morning by the finance committee of city council, it was stated Wednesday by Alderman W. B. Duvall, chairman. The bonds, which will provide money for paving of 14 Atlanta streets under the baby bond plan, will draw four and one-half per cent interest.

WOOD TO LINGER FEW DAYS LONGER AT TAMPA, FLA.

Tampa, Fla., April 1.—Much to the relief of Tampa interested in his welfare, Osborne C. Wood, famed as a plunger in Wall street, a more or less unfortunate devotee of Lady Luck, as represented by certain European gambling resorts, and as the son of Governor General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, will not turn a cold back upon these parts in preference to California. At least, not for three or four days, he declared tonight.

Obviously, the former lieutenant of the United States army is taking a rest or vacation at his first stopping point upon what appears to be a contemplated jaunt around the country. He is in no hurry to depart, nor is he positive he will remain. He will, however, enter the real estate field here.

MONDELL TO ADDRESS LOUISIANA BANKERS

Washington, April 1.—Frank W. Mondell, representing the treasury department, will address the annual convention of the Louisiana State Bankers' association at New Orleans on April 15. This announcement was made from the treasury department today. Mr. Mondell will speak on federal taxation.

It was also announced at the treasury that Secretary Mellon had been invited to address the annual convention of state bankers associations in Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Arkansas as well as other public tax discussion meetings throughout the south.

The treasury secretary recently spoke before the Bankers' club at Richmond, Va., on taxation. It was his first address in the south.

"The public forum is the safest place to settle the question of taxation. The treasury department welcomes public discussion of the fiscal policies and problems of government," was the statement given out from Secretary Mellon's office today.

FOURTH NATIONAL BANK TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY

The Fourth National bank, recognized throughout the country as one of the strongest and most representative financial institutions in the south, on Thursday celebrates its thirty-fifth anniversary.

Organized April 2, 1890, as the American Trust and Banking company, and made a national bank under its present name in 1896, the Fourth National has enjoyed an unbroken record of growth throughout its history. Within a few years it outgrew its first quarters, the old Gould building on Decatur street, and erected its own building, the splendid 15-story office structure at Five Points, which it has occupied since. There, and at the five branches it has opened, the Fourth National now serves 70,000 patrons, a number greater than Atlanta's entire population when it began business. Its resources, which were less than one million dollars when it opened, have grown within 35 years to more than $33,000,000.

Veteran Officers.
Besides its notable growth, the Fourth National has been distinguished by its continuity of management and policy, and by its progressive spirit. John K. Otley, president of the institution, and Charles I. Ryan, vice president, were associated with the late Captain James W. English in its organization, and have served in the bank, side by side, ever since. All other active officers have been developed within the institution itself.

The Fourth National was the first national bank in Atlanta to establish a savings department. Its women's department, operated by women for women, was the first in any southern bank, having been opened in 1902. It also was the first national bank in Atlanta to establish branches, having opened its city-wide system of branches in five community centers of Atlanta and Decatur in 1922.

In 1914, when the outbreak of war in Europe demoralized the cotton markets and trade in this section was almost paralyzed, the Fourth National advertised in newspapers throughout the southeast its ability and willingness to make loans on cotton. In the similar crisis of 1921 it performed the same service.

Burs School Bonds.
A more recent incident from which the bank gained high commendation, both in Georgia and throughout the country was its action in discounting approximately $3,000,000 worth of state school warrants at a rate of 3.99 per cent. The Fourth National's bid was decidedly the most advantageous received, and financial publications have commented at length on the fact that Atlanta has an institution which can absorb so large an issue of securities at such a low rate and hold them as an investment.

Present officers are: John K. Otley, president; Charles I. Ryan, vice president; James D. Robinson, vice president; William T. Perkinson, vice president and trust officer; Robert Strickland, Jr., vice president; Stewart McGinty, vice president; Frank M. Berry, cashier; Julian Clayton, assistant cashier; Edward H. Daly, assistant cashier; Henry B. Longino, assistant cashier, and Samuel J. Fuller, auditor.

Open-Air School.

Macon, Ga., April 1.—Macon has an open air school in Central Park which provides a place of study, rest and proper nourishment for children who are under-nourished or are from tubercular homes.

The records show much improvement physically and mentally in the 22 children attending school.

Waycross Building.

Waycross, Ga., April 1.—(Special.) March building permits showed a steady increase over January and February, according to report of Chief Thuston, building inspector.

Permits for the past month total $20,000, including a permit for the tobacco warehouse now under construction.

NEW CHIEF IS NAMED FOR RAIDED TRANSPORT

Washington, April 1.—A new commanding officer for the naval transport Beaufort, raided recently at Hampton Roads for intoxicating liquor, is named in navy orders published today. He is Commander Olton W. Mauldin, who has been at the naval powder factory at Indian Head, Md., and who succeeds Commander D. W. Fuller.

No announcement was made as to the assignment Commander Fuller is to get.

WOODLOCK SWORN IN ON COMMERCE BOARD

Washington, April 1.—Thomas F. Woodlock, who was given a recess appointment to the interstate commerce commission by President Coolidge, took the oath of office today. The senate failed to act upon Mr. Woodlock's nomination at both the last and special sessions, but, under his appointment, he can serve until the end of the next regular session of congress.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are among the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patients, who usually content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease constantly undermines the system.

Weak kidneys may cause lumbago, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles, at times have headache or indigestion, as time passes you may have a swollen complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and lose flesh.

SPECIAL NOTE—You may obtain a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. They will also send you a book of valuable information, containing many of the thousands of grateful letters received from men and women who say they found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed in kidney, liver and bladder troubles. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample size bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure and mention this paper—(adv.)

If such conditions are permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow: Kidney Trouble in its very worst form may steal upon you. If you feel that your kidneys are the cause of your sickness or run down condition, begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the famous kidney, liver and bladder medicine, because as soon as your kidneys are well, they will help the other organs to health.

Our Thirty-fifth Anniversary
1890—April 2—1925

35 years— 35 millions

IN observing our thirty-fifth anniversary on April 2d, our deepest feeling is one of profound thankfulness to the multitude of patrons and friends who by their confidence and good will have made possible the Fourth National's outstanding record of stability and progress.

TO have started in 1890 with assets of less than one million dollars, and within 35 years to have passed the 35-million mark, is surely cause for gratitude. To the 70,000 people who are our patrons today, to our friends everywhere, and the public generally, we acknowledge that gratitude in the sincerest spirit of service and appreciation.

Our growth can be measured and expressed . . . our appreciation cannot

Traffic Bureau Re-Creation Expected To Come Up Today

Several important measures, including re-establishment of the traffic bureau of the police department, are scheduled for consideration before the ordinance committee of city council this afternoon.

The measure providing a new accident prevention bureau was introduced by Alderman Jesse W. Armistead shortly after abolition of the old bureau. Functions of the new unit would be practically identical with those of the old, the only important change being that it will be headed by a lieutenant, who will be under direct supervision of the chief and captain on duty.

The old bureau was abolished, it is charged, principally because it was commanded by a captain whose duties conflicted with those of the regular captain on duty.

Mortuary Fund Planned.

Establishment of a $5,000 mortuary fund for widows and children of policemen and firemen killed while in performance of duty also will be discussed. Those measures also are sponsored by Mr. Armistead.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman John A. White, and which would regulate airplanes flying over Atlanta, is among the papers to be taken up today. The ordinance would prohibit planes from flying at an altitude of less than 1,000 feet while within the city limits, and would prevent pilots from dropping noise-making devices, papers or pamphlets over the city without permission of the mayor.

The committee will consider a measure to be substituted for the junk ordinance now in effect and under which junk dealers would be forced to make a daily report to the police department of all articles collected of the nature which might be stolen goods. At present each load of junk must be taken to police headquarters for inspection.

Provisions of Measure.

The new ordinance also provides that junk cannot be sold for five days after it is collected; that junk cannot be gathered from children under 14 years of age; that junk yards must be kept open for inspection; that all junk wagons must be tagged; that all junk must be collected between 6 o'clock and 10 o'clock in the morning and 6 o'clock at night, and that each junk dealer must post a $1,000 bond. Violations are punishable by a maximum fine of $200 or a 30-day jail sentence, or both.

A measure by Councilman W. M. Elberich, calling for licensing of all boarding and industrial schools has been referred to the ordinance committee and will be brought up today.

Among the most interesting papers on the docket is an ordinance changing the time of council meeting from 3 to 2 o'clock on the first and third Mondays of each month. Several council members are said to advocate night sessions, and a fight on the paper is expected in the committee this afternoon.

REVISOR, ST. GAUDENS, TOWNEAD, EMORY MONTHLY, ANNEX IS PLANNED

Suppressed for "Indecency" BY ROBERT FULTON

The Townead, Emory Monthly, a student monthly publication, has been suppressed and will discontinue publication at once, by order of Dr. Harvey Warren Cox, president of the school, it was learned Wednesday night.

Charles M. Johnson, of West Point, Ga., student of Lamar school of law of the university, is editor of the magazine, which is regarded as one of the leading humorous publications in the south. "Offensiveness" is said to be the grounds of complaint of the administration.

The suppression is said to have been precipitated by the "little commencement number," which is said to have been "too spicy, peppery and flashy for the refined sensibilities of young college gentlemen." The issue came from the press about March 20. The action of the faculty became known Wednesday.

Ebert Van Buren, president of the student government, member of the university student council and one of the leading honor men of the school, could not be reached for an expression of the attitude of the student government. It was reported unofficially, however, that it would support the action of the administration in the suppression.

Other officers of the outlawed publication are Lawrence Askew, assistant editor; Harold Starr, advertising manager; Jesse Stripling, art editor; E. O. Dobbs, Jr., circulation manager; and Dan Bowman, assistant business manager.

Plans for Wilson Company Reorganization Announced

Chicago, April 1.—(By the Associated Press).—The reorganization of Wilson & Co., by the formation of a new company under the direction of a reorganization committee representing the bank debt, convertible bonds and preferred and common stock of the company was announced tonight by the committee, which has been working for several months to effect a plan to relieve the packing concern of financial difficulties.

The plan contemplates the proper treatment of the present company will be acquired by a new company, to be formed by a sale under decrees of the federal courts, due to the fact that the company is now in the hands of receivers. The plan provides for the adjustment of about $51,785,000 of the company's obligations, while $40,972,000 would be left undisturbed.

Terms of Adjustment.

In exchange for the debt to be adjusted, the plan contemplates the issuance of 7 per cent preferred stock, no par value convertible stock A stock, and no par value common stock. The 7 per cent preferred stock will be redeemable after two years and will be convertible into common stock at $110 a share and accrued dividends, and entitled to receive the same amount per share on liquidation.

The class A stock will be preferred as to dividends over the new common stock in the amount of $5 per share per year, and will be convertible into common stock at $110 a share and accrued dividends, and entitled to receive the same amount per share on liquidation.

Little Financing Provided.

The only financing provided by the plan is the sale of $2,500,000 of five-year 6 per cent gold notes of the new company. Loans aggregating $22,100,000 are by banks, which had deposited with the company or its subsidiaries, are to be reduced by the plan.

THOMASVILLE TO HOLD ROSE SHOW APRIL 14

Thomasville, Ga., April 1.—(Special).—Tuesday, April 14, is the date definitely decided upon by the committee in charge as the time for holding Thomasville's annual Rose show. That is thought by the committee and others as being the date when the roses will be at their best. Many of the roses are now open and with about two weeks to come of bright, warm weather it is thought that practically all of them will be in bloom.

The show is to be held this year in the new athletic court recently erected on the grounds of the East Side school, and which will give ample room for showing the roses to greatest advantage. A large number of prizes have been offered, both for individuals and for collective exhibits, and it is expected that the entries will be larger than ever before and the roses even more beautiful.

Interest is taken in this Rose show throughout this section and parties from other towns have been greatly interested in the fixing of the date, as many are coming to it.

Prisoners Take Gun From Guard And Four Escape

Athens, Ga., April 1.—(Special).—Four convicts, who overpowered Guy Wilson, their guard, in Jackson county last night and escaped had not been captured late this afternoon.

The escaped prisoners, Frank Clark, Jasper County; John Steele, Mack County; and Charlie Penley, of Atlanta, took away the guard's pistol, while they and four other prisoners were en route to the highway camp five miles, after working on a sub-grading project near Jefferson.

The condition of the club and plans for the coming year were discussed. Both the club and the grounds are in excellent condition and much work has been done on both during the past year.

GLEN ARVON CLUB ELECTS

Thomasville, Ga., April 1.—(Special).—At a recent meeting of the members of the Glen Arvon country club, the following officers were chosen, president, J. W. Turner; vice president, Hansell Baker; secretary, John Watt; treasurer, John Seany. The governors chosen were J. W. Turner, Hansell Baker, John Watt, John Seany, Rhodon G. Mays, Charles H. Watt, C. A. Trice, Robert S. Pardo, George Noel, R. C. Balfour, Jr., and J. R. H. H. H.

U. S. B. MEETS CADETS TODAY

University School's baseball team has been working overtime since Monday getting in shape for the two-game series today in Gainesville and Saturday in Buford. Thirteen players will leave this morning for the cadet stronghold.

The Bluebirds got off to a discouraging start last week by losing three games in four days to three prominent G. I. A. A. teams, but Coach Simpson has his team in better shape this week and expects some games to be entered in the win column.

The men to make the trip are Freeman, Butler, Kelly, Medlin, Hornsby, Jacobson, Wilder, Malsby, Green, McHenry, Spears and Spear.

Montezuma Hi Eliminated In National Basket Meet

Chicago, Ill., April 1.—Ellerman, right forward on the Lake View high school basketball team, shot a field goal with a great one-handed throw with his back to the goal just as the pistol fired and Montezuma (Georgia) High was eliminated from further consideration in the annual interscholastic tournament now under way here. The score of the game was 22 to 20.

Montezuma was the second Georgia team to electrify the crowd by its great playing, as only yesterday afternoon Marshallville won out by a 24 to 22 score. This afternoon Montezuma lost by a 22-to-20 score.

Montezuma got away to a good start and was on the long end of a 15-to-4 score when the first half ended, but in the second period the Lake View team played a seemingly superhuman game and won out in the closing seconds.

Guerry at center for Montezuma was the high light in the game. He scored 11 points and played a great game all around. He played a great ball game for the winners and scored 10 points.

Scoring at will, the El Reno quintet blasted the hopes of Marshallville, Ga., in the third game tonight of the University of Chicago invitation basketball tournament, with a 39 to 13 victory. The Georgia five was held to zero from turnover.

This afternoon, 6 to 1, in a loosely-played contest. Smith, of Piedmont, was the individual star of the game, getting two hits that drove four runs. Sheridan pitched good ball for Piedmont and allowed only five hits. Seven errors were made during the game, but the errors did not figure materially in the scoring.

The score: Piedmont.....6 8 3 Erskine.....13 10 0 Batteries: Sheridan and Wilder; Tinkler and Bass.

CHICKS' BOSS SEES GOOD YEAR

Memphis, Tenn., April 1.—Clyde Milan, manager of the Memphis Chickasaws, although disinclined to break into the Southern association with a flare of trumpets is satisfied with the chances of his team, he said, in outlining his expectations.

"As a newcomer in the league, unacquainted with the other teams, I am not making any predictions as to how we will finish, but I am well satisfied with the material I have to pick from in mustering a team to battle for the 1925 pennant," Milan said.

"We are starting with three old heads, Warmouth, Morton and Merz, and there are several youngsters who show promise in the pitching pit."

By Anderson, always a great fielder, will be at first base if he hits and in spite of an injury to Billy Gleason's ankle, I expect him to be in shape to play second. Tommy Taylor will play third and either Ernest Smith, from Kansas City, or Johnny Jenkins, Rochester semi-pro, will be at short.

"Barber, Rhinhardt, Moore and Lefler, all good outfielders, make the choice there difficult, and I will probably play a few games in the outfield."

"We have catchers of known ability in Yaryan and Kohlbecker, with Klindworth a third possibility."

U. S. B. MEETS CADETS TODAY

University School's baseball team has been working overtime since Monday getting in shape for the two-game series today in Gainesville and Saturday in Buford. Thirteen players will leave this morning for the cadet stronghold.

The Bluebirds got off to a discouraging start last week by losing three games in four days to three prominent G. I. A. A. teams, but Coach Simpson has his team in better shape this week and expects some games to be entered in the win column.

The men to make the trip are Freeman, Butler, Kelly, Medlin, Hornsby, Jacobson, Wilder, Malsby, Green, McHenry, Spears and Spear.

CRACKERS TAKE FIRST HOME GAME FROM TORONTO

Speaker To Lead Indians Against Local Crew Today; Benny Karr May Perform

BY GEORGE CONGDON.

Hits coming in bunches, just like bananas, and resulting in plenty of runs, yesterday gave the Crackers a 6-to-3 victory over the Toronto Leafs in the home opener. Hits ripened into runs in the first part of the game when the Toronto boys fumbled a couple that cost them.

The only trouble, in the eyes of the couple of thousand fans who patronized the first show by Bert Niehoff's troupe, was that Toronto, after the two bobbles and a couple of hits in the second inning put the Crackers in the lead, didn't press the Atlanta club to step into a bigger lead.

Today the Crackers will get their first real tough job on the home lot. Tris Speaker will get here early in the morning with the Cleveland Indians on a rampage for Cracker blood.

The game promises to outdraw yesterday's two to one, for the Indians are bringing a crowd of former Southern league pillars and the Seveils boys from the University of Alabama with them.

Heading the Cleveland lineup for Atlanta fans is Benny Karr, who went to Cleveland at the end of last season as a result of his brilliant performance on the mound for Atlanta. Karr, according to indications, will start today's game against his former teammates, with Sherrod Smith, of Mansfield, Ga., billed to relieve him in the fourth or fifth frame.

Tris Will Perform. Speaker, the old chief himself, will work in center field, with Summa, or Carr Smith, the latter last year with the pennant-winning Chiefs, in left field and Jamieson in right field, for the Indians' infield will be composed of Knobe, last year with the Barons, first base; Fawcett, or Klugman, formerly of the Crackers, second base; Joe Sewell, University of Alabama star, shortstop; and Lutzke, third base. Myatt and Luke Sewell, brother of Joe, will work behind the bat.

Paul Fitterer, last season's ace of the St. Paul American association pitching staff, and Rufus Clarke, who slung them to the Crackers last year from Birmingham's home of view, probably will work against the Indians for Atlanta, while Joe Jenkins will take them of the bats behind the plate.

The rest of the Cracker lineup will be the same as that used so effectively yesterday against Toronto, with Zoeller, left field, leading off, and Scarritt, center field; Niehoff, second base; Murphy, first base; Smith, third base; Good, right field, and Krehmeyer, shortstop, following in order.

The team of hurlers that beat Reading, another International league club, put the Leafs aside yesterday as the final for the Crackers' championship.

The team of hurlers that beat Reading, another International league club, put the Leafs aside yesterday as the final for the Crackers' championship. The only 1924 Cracker slinger back, gave up just six hits in the nine innings. The only passes issued were those given by McLaughlin and he walked only three men. Both looked like they had been riding all winter on a regular schedule.

While Capes, Toronto outfielder, was the boy to drive out the first home run for the 1925 season at the Ponce de Leon yard, Gheringer, second baseman for the Leafs, obtained from Detroit at the end of last season, stood out in Toronto's end of the game like a sore thumb. He speared some that made fans' heads dizzy. However, he wasn't there with the hits.

The Crackers nailed nine hits off the delivery of Stewart and Satterfield, the latter a former Cracker and star hurler of the University of Georgia. Red Smith, who smashed out a triple and a single in three trips up, and Krehmeyer, who landed a brace of singles in four attempts, were the only Crackers to get base hits. Frankie

TUNNEY THOUGHT THEY WERE KIDDING

Hot Springs, April 1.—Gene Tunney, light heavyweight champion of the world, was playing golf at the Hot Springs Country club early this afternoon when a message came from Billy Gibson, his manager, stating that the match with Tommy Gibbons had been signed up for June 12.

Turning to Grover Walsh, Long Island sportsman, his partner in a two-man fight, he said:

"You know this is April 1. Do you suppose this is on the level or somebody kidding me?"

A little later he received the confirmation in the Associated Press dispatches, and said that he was keenly gratified that the preliminary had been so little time.

"My fight will be posted and I will begin getting ready for the match," he said.

Zoeller came through with a triple that looked mighty good.

Bert Starts Hitting. Stewart, starting pitcher, was hit in the first inning when Manager Niehoff singled. In the second he was reversed by a triple by Smith and a single by Krehmeyer, and these hits, with errors by Kelly, Toronto first baseman, and Maisel, third sacker, let in the Crackers' three runs in that frame.

Smith started the scoring drive for the Crackers with his triple. Good drew a pass and Smith counted and Good took second on Krehmeyer's single to right. Johnny Brock knocked out a sacrifice, but was safe on first when Maisel bobbled. Good went to third and Krehmeyer took second on the sacrifice and Good came home on the error by Maisel. Zoeller was safe on a fielder's choice, but he went to second and Krehmeyer was safely home when Kelly pegged wild from first to the plate.

Toronto counted two runs in the second inning. Layne left fielder singled through short and scored when Maisel slammed a triple into center field. Maisel scored on Capes' single to left. This inning was only show of weakness that Bedient made in the five innings he pitched. In addition to allowing the bunt, he bobbled a bunt by Manion, Toronto catcher.

Capes Hits Homer. The Toronto boys got one hit in the third, sixth and ninth innings, but only scored on the last of the three hits. Capes' home run into the left field stands. He knocked the home when one was on base and two were out.

After taking the lead from Toronto in their half of the second inning the Crackers added two more runs in the fourth. Krehmeyer singled to center, went to second when Brock grounded out to third, and scored on Zoeller's triple to left. The score on the scoreboard in deep left centerfield. Scarritt, the boy who is gunning for the Cracker center field job, drove in the second run when he singled through second base to score Zoeller.

The fourth inning was the last the Crackers saw of Stewart, Satterfield taking up the Toronto pitching burden in the fifth. Three hits were his present to the Crackers in his first inning in the box. Murphy started out with a single to right, went to third on Smith's hot one through short, and scored on Good's single to right. Krehmeyer bunt, and then Brock hit into a double play, Gheringer to Miller to Kelly. The double play was the second, the

Unbeaten Teams of Decatur And Tech High Meet Today

BY GORDON KEITH.

Local coaches Tuesday sent their prep baseball players through their second afternoon of strenuous labor since the opening of the season smoothing over rough spots discovered in the opening day's play and getting their nines in better shape for the second set of games today.

In today's games the league-leading G. M. A. Cadets and the Decatur diamond stars meet in Decatur to decide which team shall have the honor of the clubs' perfect average. Tech High faces the Commercial Typists at Piedmont park, and Boys' High and Marist meet at Marist to decide which team shall have the doubtful honor of holding the cellar championship along with Commercial.

The Tech High-Commercial game is the only match in which a team will be reasonably safe in picking today's winner, for the conquerors of Marist boast a much stronger club than Commercial. Hutson's green team, Boys' High, by all precepts, should win from Marist but that is not a foregone conclusion. The G. M. A.-Decatur battle will be a real feature nine innings. The team that wins this game will have gained an enviable edge on the first lap of the race.

No definite announcement as to the batteries to be used has been received from the coaches.

Coach Hatcher will probably send the veteran Weatherley against the Decatur roster, but Coach Whitaker has the choice of either throwing all his strength in the person of Bill Walker against the invading Cadets, or of using his brilliant young hurler, Sweatman, to stop the attack.

In the Boys' High-Marist game the Purple will likely start Stith on the mound. Marist can use any one of their staff of young twirlers since none of them pitched more than a brace of innings Tuesday, but Corrigan will be the best bet.

Coach Tolbert will no doubt send one of his new pitchers, Hawkins or Causey, to the firing line against Commercial. Johnny Moon's arm still being a bit sore, Landers will probably face the Smithies when they come to bat in the last of the first.

Indiana University Meets 'Oglethorpe Nine Today

BY B. H. VINCENT.

After a day's rest following their two games with Dartmouth the Petrels are ready to terminate activities for the week with the Indiana university nine today. Today's game will be the only meeting of the two teams as the Indians are scheduled to open with Mercer in Macon tomorrow.

The Indiana nine was in Kentucky yesterday and in a letter to the Petrel manager stated that they would probably arrive late for their game today and asked that the time of the game be changed so as to allow them to get in a short practice before opening activities. It is not likely that the game will start until 3:30 o'clock.

Dave Barbee, who twirled the opener with Dartmouth Monday, will be called on again today. In case Coach Anderson decides to give him further rest, Charlie Ferguson or Buchanan, are available for the lone encounter with the Indians.

Barton Subs for Kemp. Ross Kemp was out of the second game with Dartmouth on account of an attack of tonsillitis and may not be able to take his position in left field today. Joe Barton, who replaced him in the final game with Dartmouth showed up well in this position and contributed one of the hits in the Petrels collected during the game, and may be called upon again today if the Petrel captain is not able to resume his position.

or less shaky so far, may be changed in today's game. Most every combination imaginable has been tried in the series of finding one that would remedy the situation. Adrian Maren, after getting off to a bad start, showed a noticeable improvement in the series with the Green.

Coach Harry Robertson left for his home in Lynn Massachusetts last night after three weeks spent in spring football practice. Before leaving he called for a get-together meeting of last year's squad and discussed plans for the coming season. He announced that his brother Jim would be back to assist him in putting the squad in condition before the opening game with Tech.

STRIB JUMPS FROM COAST TO COAST

Augusta, Ga., April 1.—(Special.) Young Stribling, who meets Hughie Walker in Augusta on April 7, is just returning from San Francisco, where he attached the scalp of Tommy Loughran, a scrapper of national reputation. Immediately after his bout with Walker in Augusta, Stribling will return to San Francisco where he meets Gene Tunney, April 18.

Stribling's jump from the Pacific coast almost to the Atlantic coast (Augusta) and his immediate return to San Francisco would make him a suitable opponent for the coast-to-coast aviators, provided the railroads would carry him as fast as he performs in the squared arena. His long jump will at least cause the traveling men to look upon him with jealousy, insofar as covering territory is concerned.

In meeting Hughie Walker, of Kansas City, Young Stribling is mixing with a veteran of over 500 battles and one who has never had the "fatal ten" counted over his prostrated form, having met such men as Tommy Gibson, Harry Gray, Bill Brennan, Willie Meekins (conqueror of Dempsey) and many other top-notchers. He is aggressive, can "take it" and "give it."

Augusta is staging a double sport attraction. The New York Giants, champions of the National league, and Washington Senators, play baseball here April 7 and 8.

The advance sale for the two attractions has been tremendous and it is expected that one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Augusta will be present.

Dartmouth Crew Earns 5-4 Victory Over Bulldogs; Harris Hits Four-Bagger

BY MARCUS BRYANT.

Athens, Ga., April 1.—(Special.)—A ninth inning rally on the part of the Georgia Bulldogs fell short here Wednesday, and Dartmouth won the opening game of the series, 5 to 4. Emmett Tulley will oppose the "Big Green" on the mound Thursday.

With the score standing 5 to 1, and the fateful ninth a reality, the Bulldogs rallied their forces and with a sacrifice fly, pushed three runs Dartmouth's hands.

Andy Chambers, Georgia's veteran twirler, did the chinking for the Bulldogs, and had it not been for the ragged support, would have turned in a much better game. Dartmouth bats touched him for ten hits, three coming in each of the fourth and sixth innings. Ten whiffed the breezes before him, and he walked two. Behind him, the Bulldogs made a total of seven errors.

"Ace" Edwards held the Georgians well until the ninth, when he made way for Dupins. The former surrendered eight hits, fanned seven, and walked a trio. Dupins held the locals hitless.

Dartmouth opened with a flying start getting one run in the first. Fox, first up, lived on Satter's error, stole second and went to third on Elliot's roller to Thompson, and scored on Bjorkman's double. A couple of hits and a sacrifice, gave the Hanover nine another run in the fourth.

Harris Hits Homer. Harris, first up for the visitors in the sixth, got a home run and another was added on two singles and a misplay, in this inning. The final run came about as the result of a base on balls, an infield out, a hit, and another error of Satter.

"Scrapy" Moore poked out a homer in the fourth for the first Bulldog score. The trio coming in the ninth were accounted for in the following manner: Johnson, first up, hit, and Stevens' error gave two runners on the paths. Chambers scored Johnson on his hit, and Morton, running for Sherlock, took third, scoring Middlebrooks' fielder's choice, when Chambers was forced at second. A passed ball, an error, and a sacrifice sent Middlebrooks romping home.

"Skeet" Johnson, of the Bulldogs, started getting one run in the first. Fox, first up, lived on Satter's error, stole second and went to third on Elliot's roller to Thompson, and scored on Bjorkman's double. A couple of hits and a sacrifice, gave the Hanover nine another run in the fourth.

TAX COMMITTEE HEARS PROTESTS ON LICENSES

Protests of representatives of several lines of business regarding license fees paid by them were heard before the tax committee of city council Wednesday afternoon. However, the only definite action taken on any was adverse of an ordinance providing a $10 annual license fee for all cleaning and dyeing establishments, laun-

Jonas Ewing, prominent Atlanta realtors, and J. C. Robinson, secretary of the real estate board, asked that all real estate dealers be assessed fees on a uniform basis. At present they pay licenses on a graduation scale, depending on the amount of business done by them. For instance, dealers doing less than $200,000 worth of business annually must pay $50 per year, with the scale running up to a maximum license fee of $300 for firms transacting more than $700,000 worth of business a year.

It was stated that the present system permits unfair competition from some dealers. "Unscrupulous dealers are preying on the public by selling real estate which never is delivered and curbstone realtors thrive under the present license system," Mr. Robinson told the committee.

No opposition was heard and the

The ordinance providing a $175 license fee for employers and employment agencies was held in abeyance for further consideration after several protests were heard.

Alderman J. Allen Couch, author of an ordinance prohibiting licensing of pool rooms unless property owners for 100 feet on each side approve, withdrew the paper after pool room owners had stated that its adoption would mean abolition of practically every pool room in Atlanta.

The paper already has been passed by council, but was vetoed by the mayor on Mr. Couch's request. Attorney Hugh M. White said that

THE SOCIETY MACHINE

by EDITH BRAUN

former governess and companion to Mrs. Otto H. Kahn

THIS IS THE DISCARD PILE OF CUSTOMS.

Among the many traditions that have disappeared from highest society in the last ten years are:

The groom on the box.

The cockade for the groom and driver.

The invariable use of engraved or written invitations.

Air-tight exclusiveness.

Profound respect for Europe.

The prim, formal reception.

CHAPTER—How Society Is Changing.

Mrs. Astor Would Just Throw Up Her Hands!

(Copyright, 1925, in U. S. Canada, Great Britain and South America by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

During the war a well-known Fifth avenue debutante did her bit as a chauffeur for the British war office. She drove the red-tipped generals and secretaries of war about the streets of London—their man in uniform, as they called her, was a chauffeur for the British war office.

Like so many girls in those days, she had taken a course in automobile dissection and in London she felt unshaken confidence in her ability. She drove her own American car.

One day, when she was taking a terribly important general to one of the bureau but, her car stalled in Piccadilly. She could do nothing to make it start.

To relieve her embarrassment, the general shifted to a taxi, and she telephoned for an army transport mechanic.

The mechanic, she said, came quickly, raised the hood of her car, touched the carburetor, and the engine ran.

The next year she had a similar misfortune. She promptly jumped out, lifted the hood and touched the carburetor, but nothing happened.

She persuaded her husband that her knowledge of automobile mechanism was faulty. She at once became practically interested, and today she knows as much about her car as her chauffeur.

The war experience and its lessening of social rigidity all down the line had an inevitable effect on high society, of course. The multiplication of the 400 to the 2,000 in New York city shows the tendency toward a greater democracy, though it still is an elite democracy.

Aristocracy today, in most places, means not so much old family as more. This is speaking from a general view point. Old families still have a thought or two on the subject. But it is a fact that today we have more of an aristocracy of wealth and manners, with a tendency toward allowing intellectuality to have a look in. Many of the dowagers and still-back matrons are entrenched against latitude, but formalism is dying fast. Free and easy informality, on a well-mannered basis, is the direction society is taking.

Mrs. Astor would be aghast to hear of a society she had so primly ruled actually making use of the telephone (sometimes exclusively) as a means of inviting and accepting invitations to dinners and dances. She probably would swoon upon hearing that this same society frequently ends their after parties and dances in a common people's "cat" shop where coffee costs 10 cents.

But she would be more distressed than a young girl of today having a pre-debutante life ahead of her, such as Mrs. Astor decreed, with cloistered aloofness from the world, no rouge, no cigarettes, no liberal thought, no popular books, no sports, and an eternal dignity and hauteur. And a 1924 debutante would either be moved to fitters or tonsors at a regular interval, or she would have a similar misfortune. She promptly jumped out, lifted the hood and touched the carburetor, but nothing happened.

She persuaded her husband that her knowledge of automobile mechanism was faulty. She at once became practically interested, and today she knows Society is younger today. If anything it is becoming boyish and girlish.

THE RIVALS' PLAYERS FORM ALL-STAR CAST

Alexander Woolcott, famous dramatic critic of The New York Sun, in a two-column story recently tells of the veritable triumph progress of Mrs. Fiske and her associated players in the revival of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's famous old comedy "The Rivals." This tour, says Mr. Woolcott, is "a source of more satisfaction to more participants and more onlookers than any other present enterprise of the American theater."

The tour, which has been nationwide in scope—though not including New York—brings Mrs. Fiske, Chalmers O'Leary, Tom Wise, James T. Powers, Lola Fisher, Kenneth Thomsen, and all the rest of the truly all-star cast, to play a three-night and matinee engagement for the balance of the week.

Judging by the remarks of Mr. Woolcott, and reports from other cities, seats are going to be at a premium during the engagement. It is many, many years since the play was given the opportunity of witnessing at home a production with any cast at all approximating this one in excellence, the Atlanta management declares.

BRANCH TELEGRAPH OFFICE IS OPENED

One of the most up-to-date telegraph branch offices in the country was opened Wednesday morning at 65 East Alabama street by the Western Union Telegraph and Cable company.

This branch office is operated for the sole purpose of increasing the value of the telegraph to patrons in that section, local officials said. Its equipment and the facilities are not equalled by any other branch telegraph office in the south, it was said.

BEAUTY CHATS BY EDNA K. FORBES.

WHEN YOU SPEAK.

You've often heard the expression: "She's all right until she opens her mouth." Haven't you? I hope that's never applied to you, for a soft voice and a pleasing manner of speech are so important that not even the most beautiful woman would be without them. A pretty face attracts at first, but Venus herself would have paled upon the most ardent of her admirers had sharp, sarcastic phrases in a high nasal voice, issued from her lovely lips.

Firms with antiseptic mouth washes to sell, advertise the social error of a tainted breath, and other firms with other products to sell warn the feminine public that it isn't nice to go about with the least trace of a respiratory odor, but no one except a philanthropist will ever buy newspaper columns to tell anyone that an ugly voice is more irritating than either of these. A harsh voice must grate upon the nerves of the hearer, and those who listen, even though those very listeners possess voices as bad. At least I feel that must be so.

Watch your voice, for only you can find its faults and correct them. You can do it yourself. Listen first, very critically, to the voices you hear around you, among your friends, among strangers, in your own mind. Listen to your own as you speak. If it is harsh or irritating, lower the tone, soften it, drop the bad slangy words and substitute good English. Any cross word puzzle fan should know half a dozen words for every idea at this time. You can take elocution or elocution lessons if you want or have time, but I honestly think you'd do more by listening to your own voice and to others, modeling your speech for a time upon that of the most cultivated people you know, and gradually make your words and your manner of expression suit your personality, which is not harsh and nasal. If it were possible, you would want to drop your bad tricks of speech.

Mae S.: The most becoming colors are those that match the color of the eyes and the hair, so in your case, it would mean all the shades of brown. If your skin is fair, you should be able to wear almost any color, but if it is sallow, avoid the cold greys or tan that do not have a pinkish tint in the shade.

Miss G. G.: With thin arms and a thin face, you should think of a thin face to build up your weight. An excellent thing for this is cod liver oil; if this does not appeal to you, try the grape juice or any other fruit juice.

H. B.: I should surmise that your liver is causing your skin to have the "yellow" they look you describe. Consult the doctor about it.

Tomorrow: Bobbed Hair and Noses. All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Duty of Military Stressed in Talk By Colonel Darrah

The duty of the regular army, national guard and organized reserve was explained to a group of regular and national guard officers at the weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday of officers of the 122d infantry, "Atlanta's Own" guard regiment. The luncheon was in the Rainbow room of the Ansley hotel at 12:30 o'clock. Charles H. Cox, regimental commander, presiding.

"Be it so to meet our duty to the nation," Colonel T. W. Darrah, chief of staff of the fourth corps area, and principal speaker, explained, "the interest in the trend of betterment in evidence on all sides, and equipment of the nation's man power to defend itself."

Colonel Darrah, one of the aggressive type of the regular army, recently conducted a school in tactics for officers of the 122d infantry and reserve officers in Atlanta. He has shown marked interest in the growth of the local national guard outfit and is popular with officers and men of the regiment.

He dealt briefly in his address with the fundamentals of an army, pointing out the position of national guard and reserve organizations, and urged that officers of these two classes interest themselves in their work.

"In the next war, if we should have one," he said, "we probably will have an abundance of stiff men, but we will need men capable and qualified to lead combat troops."

A group of officers attached to the fourth corps area headquarters here were guests of 122d infantry officers and were introduced by Colonel Cox.

RAIL DIRECTOR DAVIS TO WIND UP AFFAIRS

Washington, April 1.—Affairs of the railroad administration will be definitely terminated within a year in the opinion of Director General Davis. About $600,000,000 in claims remain to be settled. Mr. Davis reported today to President Coolidge, while all settlements with the railroads as the result of government operation during the war have been completed.

STUDENTS OF PARIS CALL 48-HOUR STRIKE

Paris, April 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The General Association of Students of the University of Paris has decided to call a 48-hour strike, probably beginning tomorrow, in protest against the government's action in closing the law school at the Sorbonne and its insistence upon the maintenance of Dr. Georges Scelle in the chair of international law. Manifestations among the student body against Dr. Scelle's appointment led to the closing of the school and suspension of Dean Berthelemy by the ministry of instruction.

The association has asked that the student groups in the other 18 universities of France to join in this protest movement.

The battle over the suspension of Dean Berthelemy, of the Sorbonne's law faculty, and closing of the law school by the government, after student manifestations against the appointment of Dr. Scelle to the chair of international law, yesterday shifted from the Latin quarter to parliament.

The chamber of deputies debated the question until 3 o'clock this morning, when the government's handling of the situation was endorsed by a vote of 302 to 220.

The minister of education, Francois Albert, in a speech which was frequently interrupted, said that political agitation was responsible for the trouble.

Premier Herriot wound up the debate by asserting: "It is our duty to react against this, the first act of a kind of fascism now being prompted." Opposition speakers condemned the government's action as clumsy, tactless and a gross blunder.

Meanwhile the Latin quarter is seething beneath the surface. All the other professors of the faculty of law, to the number of 100, are reported to be ready to resign if the government persists in its course.

WARE COUNTY TIMBER BOUGHT FOR PRESERVE

Waycross, Ga., April 1.—(Special.)—Announcements were made here today of the largest real estate deals in the history of Ware county. Involving 43,000 acres of timbered and cut-over land. The land was purchased by George Hewitt Myers, prominent eastern banker from the Seaman Investment company of this city.

While no definite announcement has been made by Mr. Myers, it is understood that the land will be converted into a forest preserve. Several similar investments have been made in Ware and Clinch counties during the past few years, and the purchasing of cut-over timber land is becoming a popular investment in this section of the state.

CHATTOOGA WILL HAVE ABUNDANT FRUIT CROP

Summersville, Ga., April 1.—(Special.)—Indications are that Chattooga county will have an unusually fine fruit crop this year, the cold winter apparently not having injured the fruit to any noticeable extent.

The peach trees now are in full bloom and should half of the season remain on the trees and make fruit there would be a normal crop, it is believed.

The strawberries crop also is promising, while the acreage in the county is small as compared with former years.

WARE HEALTH OFFICER TAKES UP DUTIES

Waycross, Ga., April 1.—(Special.)—Captain George Atwood, health officer for Ware county, arrived in Waycross today to take up his duties. The office of the health officer is established in the municipal building. Captain Atwood has been in government service for a number of years, coming to Waycross from Fort Screven, where he was in charge of the government hospital.

PACIFIC MAIL LINE MAY QUIT BUSINESS

Washington, April 1.—Representatives of the Pacific Mail Steamship line discussed here today the situation confronting the company in view of the acceptance by the shipping board of the bid of the Dollar interests for the ships and service in the California Orient line.

Participating in the conference were Gale H. Carter, president of the Pacific Mail; New York counsel for the company, and Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, who represented the Pacific Mail in the negotiations with the board.

No statement was forthcoming nor was any light thrown on reports that some action to defer consummation of the sale might be taken, possibly through injunction proceedings.

R. Stanley Dollar, vice president of the Dollar line, remained in the city to take up through counsel for the shipping board, the drafting of a sale contract which must go before the board for final approval.

San Francisco, April 1.—Officials of the Pacific Mail Steamship company here were of the opinion today that if the trans-oceanic steamers of the company are sold to the Robert Dollar Steamship company, the Pacific Mail will definitely go out of business after more than 75 years of service.

Memorial Fund Auditor Named By Bank Body

The firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., certified public accountants, of New York, has been engaged by the executive committee of the Stone Mountain Monumental association to make a complete audit of the association's books, it was announced Wednesday. The audit will begin today, it was stated.

This action follows a request made some time ago by the association that the Atlanta Clearing House association select an auditor to do this work. It was stated that the association desired both an auditor of national reputation and one selected in such a way as to forestall criticism.

The clearing house, on receiving this request, selected the above firm, and the engagement was made by the executive committee of the association at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon, it was stated.

The move for an audit of the association's books was initiated by the Atlanta chapter U. D. C., whose members passed resolutions in which it charged the "bank" expense. It was stated that this offer was not accepted, the proposal for an outside auditor, to be paid by the association, being made by the executive committee, instead.

The firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. is reported to be one of the best of the "bank" expense. It was organized in 1870. It has 25 offices in the United States, of which seven are in the south. The Atlanta office is under the management of W. H. James.

BALFOUR DEDICATES HEBREW UNIVERSITY

Jerusalem, April 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The new Hebrew university, situated on the summit of Mount Scopus, was solemnly inaugurated today in the presence of 7,000 persons in the great amphitheater on the side of the hill. Thousands were unable to gain admittance had to be turned away. A distinguished group was present, including representatives of more than 50 leading institutions and academic bodies in all parts of the world.

The inaugural address was delivered by the Earl of Balfour, author of the "Balfour" declaration, in which Great Britain set forth her policy of encouraging the creation in Palestine of a national home for the Jews.

Hours before the ceremony began, the narrow, dusty road leading to the summit of Mount Scopus was black with vehicle and pedestrian, the throng comprising largely Jewish men, women and children, who had trudged across the fields and climbed the slopes leading toward the peak of the hill. Hundreds had tramped long distances—400 had walked from Jaffa to attend the historic event—and many far-away countries of the world had their representatives there.

The new university stands like a sentinel 3,000 feet above the surrounding valleys, giving new point to the name of the mountain on which it is located, for the meaning of Scopus is "hill sentinel."

Much like the olden days when the great brought goat skins as a protection against the cold, hard stones of an amphitheater, most of today's modern pilgrims brought cushions with them, and the hillside was a good business in "Balfour chocolate," "Balfour cake" and "Balfour cigarettes."

The amphitheater overlooks the Mount of Olives with its grave of innumerable Jewish dead. Mount Scopus itself is full of history, for it was here that the armies of Titus encamped before descending upon and destroying Jerusalem, and Alexander the Great established himself here after taking Gaza.

BEALL WINS FIGHT TO RETAIN PARKS CONCESSION LEASE

L. O. Beall Tuesday won his fight to keep a five-year refreshment stand concession at Grant and Piedmont Parks. The park committee of city council attacked Beall's contract with the city and attempted to abrogate it. Beall paid $2,500 for the privilege and claimed the committee had no right to notify him last January that the contract was invalid and that his establishment, near the zoo, in Grant Park would be removed.

The case was heard by Judge George L. Bell of Fulton superior court. Beall filed an injunction proceeding to prevent the city from moving his stand, and Judge Bell granted it until the expiration of the contract.

Demand Continues For Blue Rock Sites; Tuesday's Sale Heavy

"Improvements and popular demand warrant an advance of $5 per front foot for home sites in Blue Rock Heights, and it will not be long before we will announce a further advance," said J. Clayton Burke, of Grant-Jeter company and sales manager for Blue Rock Heights, Tuesday.

Sales for Tuesday went well in the five-figure class. Four sites were sold in block "A" adjoining the property sold to Wilmer Moore, Jr., a few days ago. M. Watson, vice president of the Watson corporation, of Miami, Fla., purchased lot No. 25 in block "A" fronting on Blue Rock drive. Mr. Watson stated that he will begin construction of a home immediately.

It has been decided that homes of the Italian and Spanish types will prevail, and that silted gardens will be built so as to conform with this particular style of architecture.

COCHRAN FUNERAL IS SET FOR TODAY

Funeral services for Charles O. Cochran, member of the Atlanta police force, who died suddenly Tuesday at the residence, on Glenwood avenue, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Capitol View Methodist church, Rev. J. W. Brinsfield, assisted by Rev. W. T. Watkins, officiating. Interment will be in West View cemetery. Special ceremonies will be conducted at the grave by a group of his fellow officers.

Mr. Cochran was a member of the Capitol View church, Capitol View lodge No. 640, F. & M. E. S., the Lehighdon Lodge No. 103, O. E. S. In addition to his widow, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cochran, three brothers, Ivan, Earl and S. J. Cochran, and two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Huff and Mrs. Evelyn McConnell.

The literary department of the Atlanta Woman's club, with Mrs. W. F. Melton, chairman, will meet this afternoon in the palm room of the club at 3 o'clock.

ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER IS FOUND MURDERED

New York, April 1.—The body of Mack Passwell, reputed gambler, bootlegger and former cloak and suit maker of St. Louis, was discovered today stuffed into a nook in the cellar way of a Park avenue apartment house.

A bullet had entered the throat and another the head. In the clothes were a watch and several pieces of jewelry, a few cents in cash and a bank book showing recent deposits of $800,000. The fingers bore several rings.

Miss Fain, owner of a fruit store, who said she knew the Passwell family on Maple street, St. Louis, identified the body. She described Passwell as one who played cards a great deal, and who recently has obtained permission to receive his mail at her shop.

Authorities said they learned that he moved in mysterious circles; that he was a large operator in the sacramental wine branch of the bootlegging business; and that he had large sums on deposit in banks other than the one named in the East River National bank book found on the body.

LOGAN LONG OFFICIALS EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

T. F. McWaters, district sales manager for the Logan-Long company, manufacturers of Logan-Long Life Tuel roofing, left on Wednesday afternoon for a short business trip of the southern part of the country.

Mr. McWaters stated that several officials of the Logan-Long company were expected in the city next week for a final inspection of their new local plant at 125 Sylvan road.

HUSBAND OF FORMER ATLANTA WOMAN DIES

News has been received here of the recent death in San Pedro, Cal., of Lafayette Boyd Hedge, the husband of Mrs. Consers Hedge, former resident of Atlanta.

Mrs. Hedge before her marriage was Miss Edith Consers, of Cartersville. She had lived in Atlanta a number of years, and is related to Ben J. Consers, C. T. Consers and Sam Consers, all of Atlanta, and by marriage to Rev. J. J. Bennett.

The trial may be held later this week. Meanwhile Alvin Graham and his stepbrother and sister, Elco and Ann Mazelle Graham, are held in jail in connection with the murder.

The Lost World

BY SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

SYNOPSIS

Malone, a London newspaper reporter, rejected by the girl he loves because he has no great leads in his credit, accepts a dangerous assignment, and is turned from an expedition to South America with an amazing story, which no one believes, of the existence there on a great plateau of many forms of prehistoric life. By either of a monstrous animal resembling the stegosaurus which had been among the possessions of an explorer, Maule White, whom he had found dead from starvation; some of the photographs of what appeared to be the same cliffs; and a piece of the wing of a huge flying serpent, or pterodactyl, which he had shot down. His theory is that by a volcanic upheaval a great area has been lifted, with all its living contents, and cut off by straight precipices from the country below.

"But surely your evidence is conclusive. You have only to lay it before the proper authorities."

"So, in my simplicity, I had imagined," said the professor bitterly. "I can only tell you that it was not so, that I was met at every turn by incredulity, born partly of stupidity and partly of jealousy. It is not my nature, sir, to bring to any man, or to seek to prove a fact if my word has been doubted. After the first I have not condescended to show such corroborative proofs as I possess. The subject became hateful to me—I would not speak of it. When men like yourself, who represent the foolish curiosity of the public, came to disturb my privacy I was unable to meet them with dignified reserve. By nature I am, I admit, somewhat fiery, and under provocation I am inclined to be violent. I fear you may have remarked it."

"I nursed my eye and was silent."

"My wife has frequently remonstrated with me upon the subject, and yet I fancy that any man of honor would feel the same. Tonight, however, I propose to give an example of the control of the will over the emotions. I invite you to be present at the exhibition." He handed me a card from his desk. "You will perceive that Mr. Percival Waldron, a naturalist of some popular repute, is announced to lecture at eight-thirty at the Zoological Institute's hall upon 'The Record of the Ages.' I have been specially invited to be present upon the platform, and to move a vote of thanks to the lecturer. While doing so, I shall make it my business, with infinite tact and delicacy, to throw out a few remarks which may arouse the interest of the audience and cause some of them to desire to go more deeply into the matter. Nothing contentious, you understand, but only an indication that there are greater depths beyond. I shall hold myself strongly in leash, and see whether by this self-restraint I attain a more favorable result."

"And I may come?" I asked eagerly.

"Why, surely," he answered, cordially. He had an enormously massive genial manner, which was almost as overpowering as his violence. His smile of benevolence was a wonderful thing, when his cheeks would suddenly bunch into two red apples, between his half-closed eyes and his great black beard. "By all means, come. It will be a great comfort to me to know that I have one ally in the hall, however inefficient and ignorant of the subject he may be. I fancy there will be a large audience, for Waldron, though an absolute charlatan, has a considerable popular following. Now, Mr. Malone, I have given you rather more of my time than I had intended. The individual must not monopolize what is meant for the world. I shall be pleased to see you at the lecture tonight. In the meantime, you will understand that no public use is to be made of any of the material that I have given you."

"But Mr. McArdle—my news editor, you know—will want to know what I have done."

"I'll show him up for the fraud he is."

"Tell him what you like. You can say, among other things, that if he sends anyone else to intrude upon me I shall call upon him with a riding-whip. But I leave it to you that nothing of all this appears in print. Very good. Then the Zoological Institute's hall at eight-thirty tonight." I had a last impression of red cheeks, blue rippling beard, and tolerant eyes, as he waved me out of the room.

CHAPTER V

What with the physical shocks incidental to my first interview with Professor Challenger and the mental ones which accompanied the second, I was a somewhat demoralized journalist by the time I found myself in Enmore park once more. In my aching head the one thought was throbbing that there really was truth in this man's story, that it was of tremendous consequence, and that it would work up into inconceivable copy for the Gazette when I could obtain permission to use it. A taxi cab was waiting at the end of the road, so I sprang into it and drove down to the office. McArdle was at his post as usual.

"Well," he cried, expectantly, "what may it run to? I'm thinking, young man, you have been in the wars. Don't tell me that he assaulted you."

"We had a little difference at first."

"What a man it is! What did you do?"

"Well, he became more reasonable and we had a chat. But I got nothing out of him—nothing for publication."

"I'm not so sure about that. You got a black eye out of him, and that's for publication. We can't have this reign of terror, Mr. Malone. We must bring this man to his bearings. I'll have a leaderette on him tomorrow that will raise a blister. Just give me the material and I will engage to brand the fellow for ever. Professor Munchausen—how's that for an inset headline. Sir John Mandeville redivivus—Cagliostro—all the impostors and bullies in history. I'll show him up for the fraud he is."

"I wouldn't do that, sir."

"Why not?"

"Because he is not a fraud at all."

"What?" roared McArdle. "You don't mean to say that you really believe this stuff of his about mammoths and mastodons and great sea serpents?"

"Well, I don't know about that. I don't think he makes any claims of that kind. But I do believe he has got something new."

"Then for heaven's sake, man, write it up!"

"I'm longing to, but all I know he gave me in confidence and on condition that I didn't." I condensed into a few sentences the professor's narrative. "That's how it stands."

McArdle looked deeply incredulous.

"Well, Mr. Malone," he said at last, "about this scientific meeting tonight; there can be no privacy about that, anyhow. I don't suppose any paper will want to report it, for Waldron has been reported already a dozen times, and no one is aware that Challenger will speak. We may get a scoop, if we are lucky. You'll be there in any case, so you'll just give us a pretty full report. I'll keep space up to midnight."

Said, "How nice it is that 'love' rhymes so faultlessly with 'dove'."

"Yes," she cried, "and also, 'junk' makes a perfect rhyme with 'bunk'."

Rosetta Duncan.

II.

Polly, at her morning meal,

Felt her youthful blood congeal.

"Ma," she said, "don't call me 'pet'."

And just one thing don't forget:

If you call me 'Pollyanna' I'll crown you with this ripe banana."

—Frances Morris.

III.

Polly's Pa, I grieve to state,

Came home very, very late,

Down the narrow hall he crept,

Hoping everybody slept.

Polly hailed him. "Ma awoke!"

"That," said Polly, "was the joke."

—H. O. Davidson.

FUN SHOP MOVIES.

Souls of Steel.

Reel 1.

A busy street corner in a great city, searching his pockets with the hopeless expression of one who already knows the worst. He apologetically

John Fletcher, face a little drawn, is approached. John Morganfeller, fur-coated in his limousine.

Reel 2.

Fletcher: "Beg pardon, Sir but could you—"

Morganfeller: "All my charity must go through the regular channels. Apply to my chief disburser, Room 116, National Bank Building, and if your case is worthy—not another word, please!"

Reel 3.

A pawnshop. With trembling hands Fletcher purchases a revolver.

Reel 4.

Comes night, with its flickering shadows. J. P. Astorbilt finds himself looking into the wavering muzzle of Fletcher's 44.

Fletcher: "Stick 'em up! I have very little money on me."

Astorbilt: "They're up. I have very little money on me."

Fletcher: "SHUT UP! All day I've tried to ask a little favor of you—gentle cliff divers, but not one so far has even heard me out. Now you've got to come across. Gimme a match, darn you!"

—A. H. Hughes.

THE EDITOR'S GOSSIP SHOP.

My, what a following Wild Willie, Roguish Halo, and Provoking Polly have!

The greeting our gang got from you was surprising even to us. Popular? Say, Willie says he's so inspired he'll show up Rollo and Polly! But believe us, one girl like Polly can make two fellows like Willie and Rollo go home.

In behalf of the gang, we thank you for your reception and hope you'll keep our mail-bag filled with mirth quite in the same vein as has been presented and will be presented under the titles of WILD WILLIES, PROVOKING POLLY, and ROGUSH ROLLO.

THE TRICKY TRIOLET COUNTER.

The Contractor Speaks.

I'll tell the world I loved her lots,

That maiden sweet who's now my frau;

With candy, flowers, and All Hots I wooed her, for I loved her lots!

I promised her fine clothes and yachts, To love her always took a vow. I'll tell the world I loved her lots— And I've got building on them now.

—Russell Nelson.

Clifford: "I wonder why such trips as these are called outings?"

Holt: "Because that's what you are."

Readers are invited to contribute. All humor—epigrams (for humorous motives), jokes, anecdotes, poetry, burlesques, satires and bright sayings of children—must be original and hitherto unpublished. Accepted material will be paid for at the rate of $1 to $10 per contribution and from 25 cents to $1 per line for poetry, according to its character and value in the judgment of the editor. Unaccepted contributions cannot be returned. All manuscripts must be written on one side of the paper only and should be addressed to The Atlanta Constitution Fun Shop Headquarters, 250 Park Avenue, New York City.

NO SECRET ABOUT OUR SUCCESS

It is based on our TRUE VALUE business policy

Buick value is unquestioned; it is made possible by the enormous buying and manufacturing facilities of General Motors.

Buick prices carry no "Trading Allowance" of $150 to $200 to fool the buyer who has an old car to trade, or overcharge the man who buys outright without trading.

By trading in used cars at their true worth we give the used car purchaser full value for every dollar he pays us.

TRUE VALUE AND FAIR DEALING WIN IN THE LONG RUN

lic works committee of the board, that work of paving the graded portions of the street will begin Monday unless the street committee of the city council, or council itself, asks that the work be held up.

Resolutions introduced by Mr. Johnson, asked that probation officers and judges refuse to recommend prisoners in campus of the county for parole without first obtaining a report of a clear record from authorities where the prisoner has been incarcerated. The resolution was passed and copies will be sent all judges, probation officers, wardens and deputy wardens of the county.

Mr. Johnson was authorized to buy 5,000 barrels of cement to carry on road improvement work of the county.

Fair Prizes Offered.

The commission voted $20,000 for the Southern Fair association and $1,000 for prizes for winners of agricultural club awards at the fair, which will be held at Atlanta this fall.

A request of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for $5,000 for the Georgia exhibit at the Southern Exposition at New York was declined with the commission deadlocked on the vote.

Virlyn B. Moore, chairman of the board, stated he could not conscientiously vote for the proposal because of urgent need of economy in county funds.

The resignation of W. T. Comer, Jr., Fulton county tax investigator was accepted. A proposal to build a 20,000 gallon gasoline tank at Bellwood camp to buy gasoline outside the state and ship it to Fulton county in order to save the three-cent state gasoline tax, met with favorable

PROPERTY OWNERS OBJECT TO PAVING

Julian Jones, representing a group of property owners on Peters street Wednesday filed a petition with Fulton county commissioners asking that the county refrain from paving Peters street, as its part of the widening project, because certain grading done by the city is alleged to have damaged property of petitioners.

The grading will throw water into the basements of certain houses, it was alleged. The matter was brought before commissioners at the regular April meeting.

After consideration by the board, it was decided that the proper body to pass on the alleged grievance of the petition is the street committee of council. It further was intimated by Edwin Johnson, chairman of the public works committee of the board, that work of paving the graded portions of the street will begin Monday unless the street committee of the city council, or council itself, asks that the work be held up.

Resolutions introduced by Mr. Johnson, asked that probation officers and judges refuse to recommend prisoners in campus of the county for parole without first obtaining a report of a clear record from authorities where the prisoner has been incarcerated. The resolution was passed and copies will be sent all judges, probation officers, wardens and deputy wardens of the county.
